

THOUSANDS WATCH ECLIPSE OF SUN

ARMY OF SCIENTISTS RECORDS PHENOMENON IN BELT OF TOTALITY

Laymen Gaze Skyward Through Smoked Glass as Nature Unfolds Spectacle—New York Stops To Let Moon Pass By.

New York, Jan. 24.—Millions of human eyes peered into the heavens today to witness a phenomenon at once awesome and magnificent, a total eclipse of the sun.

Twenty million persons, stretched across a 100 mile path, extending from the rolling plains of Minnesota eastward to the throbbing metropolis of New York on the Atlantic seaboard, turned out to view this rarest of dramas known to mankind, a spectacle unsurpassed in the annals of modern history.

A great celestial pencil, which was to throw an arc of darkness across the map of the United States was the magnet that drew the gazing millions. The sweep of blackness was to be in a huge crescent-shaped curve, 100 miles wide and 3,000 miles long, from Red Lake, Minn., to a point in the Atlantic ocean in the Shetland islands. It was to cover the distance in one hour and forty-three minutes at an average speed of one half a mile a second, or 188 miles an hour.

Every hamlet, town or city in the belt of totality was choked with dense crowds of enraptured sky gazers long before eight o'clock this morning at which hour scientists had asserted the black "pencil" would begin its spectacular sweep across Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Pennsylvania and New York to the ocean.

And New York, no less than else-

DID YOU SEE THE ECLIPSE?

Feat of Nature Viewed
Through Smoked Glass
Here By Many

After years of training for the part, an understudy stole the stage from the principal in Nature's biggest spectacle-extravaganza Saturday morning.

The Moon, playing second fiddle for centuries, suddenly ventured out of its character, stepped downstage into the glow of footlights and the glare of the spotlight, and took a flock of encores in recognition of the biggest piece of acting ever staged in Nature's own amphitheater.

The performance of the Moon fairly eclipsed the Sun.

The performance was offered Saturday morning as the biggest Nature spectacle that it has been given residents of this hemisphere to witness for many, many years.

The audience, nation-wide, was the biggest gathering that has witnessed a similar affair for years. Equipped with smoked glasses instead of opera-glasses crowds from the West and East of these broad United States, watched with spell-bound expressions and water-rimmed eyes, while Nature unfolded its wonders.

Xenians by the hundreds were suffering from burning eyes and creaking necks Saturday as result of having made up a part of this vast audience.

Early risers here were looking for the eclipse at 7 o'clock, and began to see the first evidence of the feat that pushed the Moon into the limelight, at that time.

The big cheese was first evidenced in a tiny arc that made itself apparent on the rim of the orange. The movement of the Moon between the Earth and the Sun was extremely rapid. In a very short time, the Moon had pushed itself almost directly in the path of the light purveyor.

In some parts of the United States, residents were in such a position as to find the light of the Sun completely obliterated by the presence of the Moon. Xenia was not in this district, the eclipse here being about 91 per cent. In New York City a total eclipse was visible for about thirty seconds, while at New Haven, Conn., total darkness was noticed for two minutes.

Xenians smoked pieces of broken window pane or looked through blank, developed kodak films, in order to see the phenomenon.

A considerable lessening of the light from the Sun was apparent here, but there was no darkness. People who expected to find it necessary for street lights, were disappointed. When the eclipse was at its greatest here, there was still a thin rim of the Sun visible, which sent out enough light to keep the chickens from going to bed.

Some Xenians attempted to see the shadow crossing the Earth's surface, but the movement was so rapid, that although visibility was possible, it was almost impossible of being certain of viewing the rapid movement.

"Granny" Aids "Debby" to Stage Career

Against the opposition of her wealthy parents, and with only the support of her grandmother, who is modern beyond her years, Sophia Brownella, San Francisco debutante and heiress to an estate of $1,000,000, has gone to New York to go on the stage. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Erle Brownell, whose home is a San Francisco show place.

NOW LOOK WHAT ECLIPSE DID—HOUSE BURNS DOWN FROM MATCH USED TO SMOKE GLASS

Cleveland, Jan. 24.—The family of Louis Fishelman, 14, should have received a greater "kick" out of the almost total eclipse of the sun today than any other Clevelander.

Louis this morning, tossed a lighted match, with which he had been smoking a piece of glass into a pan of gasoline. The resulting blaze burned the house, and as Louis' father viewed the damage, estimated at $2,500, he remarked:

"I hope it's a good show. It will have to be worth the price to me."

BAR MOVES TO BAR LAWYERS WHO CHASE AMBULANCES NOW

Cleveland, O., Jan. 24.—A proposed act to end "ambulance chasing" by lawyers, which would also include a complete code of ethics, for the legal profession, was on the program for the closing days session of the Ohio Bar Association at the Hotel Hollenden here.

The measure, drafted by a committee of the association, brought a storm of protest from members yesterday.

The argument was presented that the measure was designed to aid corporations and to make more difficult the securing of justice by poor persons injured in accidents. Present indications point to its return to the committee which drafted it for further consideration.

Election of officers was also scheduled for today.

Last night, Norman Haggood, New York magazine editor, and Max D. Steuer, famous New York trial lawyer, debated the question "Can a Poor Man Secure Justice in American Courts?"

Haggood asserted that the courts had destroyed the right of trial by jury in contests between capital and labor. Steuer refuted this charge and challenged the editor to point to a single instance where the supreme court had favored the powerful against the poor.

POLES APPLAUD AS U. S. DEBT FUNDING AGREEMENT OFFERED

Warsaw, Jan. 24.—America's popularity as a creditor was evinced in a noisy demonstration in the Polish diet today when the Polish-American debt funding agreement was presented.

It was unanimously ratified amid cheers for the United States.

Premier Grabski expressed the deep gratitude of Poland to the United States for help extended during the war.

Dr. Alfred J. Pearson, of Iowa, American minister to Poland, was present in the diet and was cheered by the legislators.

EARTHQUAKES TO FOLLOW ECLIPSE OF SUN "PADRE OF RAINS" SAYS

San Francisco, Jan. 24.—Earthquakes and general weather disturbances, the latter especially marked in the western portion of the United States, will follow this morning's eclipse of the sun, Father Jerome S. Ricard, astronomer at Santa Clara university, told International News Service today.

Hines - Howard Nuptials Elaborately Solemnized

Chicago, Jan. 24.—Chicago's most magnificent wedding was solemnized at high noon today when Miss Loretta Hines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hines, of Evanston, was married to Howell Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Howard, of Dayton, O., in the Holy Name Cathedral.

George, Cardinal Mundelein officiated.

Aside from the artistic beauty the ecclesiastical importance of the wedding overshadowed every thing else.

It was the first ceremony presided over by Cardinal Mundelein since he was elevated.

Although the mother of the bride had said the wedding would be simple and unostentatious, members of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra played a fanfare as the Cardinal and his entourage crossed the nave of his throne, and Tito Schippa, Chicago civic opera star, sang a low mass for the occasion.

The eclipse was viewed by thousands here.

Early forecasts of cloudy weather proved incorrect, and the sky gazers were rewarded with a clear view of the heavenly phenomenon.

YOUTHS SENTENCED FOR BURGLARY OF STORE HERE TWICE

James Burton and Durando Lemons this city, arraigned in Juvenile Court on a charge of delinquency, were given suspended sentences to the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster, O., by Judge S. C. Wright.

They were remanded to the custody of their parents during good behavior. Robert and Ralph Terrill and Ralph Coates, this city, arraigned on the same charge were committed to the Lancaster school until the age of twenty-one. The trio had been paroled from the institution.

The five were arrested with Earl Terrill several weeks ago in connection with the burglary of the Dunkel Grocery, on Cincinnati Avenue, on successive nights. Seventy-five pennies were taken from the cash drawer on the first occasion and a quantity of tobacco and candy removed on the second visit.

Earl Terrill, was arraigned in Police Court on a charge of petit larceny soon after he admitted connection with the robberies and sentenced to the Greene County Jail in default of payment of a $200 fine.

FIVE KILLED WHEN LANDSLIDE OCCURS AT CAMP; TWO HURT

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 24.—Five men were killed, two are dying and another suffered less serious injuries today in a landslide at a construction camp at Concrete, Washington.

The dead are: Charles Barkus, Robert Small, Andy Norman, Richard Turner and L. W. Anderson.

Turner came from Henderson, N. C.

PROFESSOR TALKS ON ECLIPSE OF SUN

A. O. Swinnerton professor of the geology department at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, delivered a talk in explanation of the eclipse and movements of the earth, sun and moon that caused it, to the students of Antioch College Friday.

The college telescope was placed on the campus Saturday morning, that the students might view the phenomenon.

CUTTING AFFRAY DUE TO ECLIPSE

Washington, Jan. 24.—The eclipse of the sun was blamed today for a spectacular affray in the United States capitol when a negro barber, fearing that the world was coming to an end, pulled out a big razor and slashed the face of a white man.

The negro was E. C. Washington, employed in the senate barber shop, and the white man was Richard H. Gay, an assistant engineer employed at the capitol.

lowing the ceremony. It was a beautiful spectacle for the 2,000 relatives, friends and members of Chicago and Evanston society circles, witnessed the giving away of the millionaire lumberman's daughter, in the cathedral decorated to a nicety, at a rumored cost of several thousand dollars.

Before the invited guests arrived, there gathered in front of the cathedral a larger assemblage of the uninvited curious. The invited guests arrived in limousines, swathed in expensive fur coats and wraps with dainty slipped feet peeping from under silken gowns. The uninvited came by surface cars, by foot and private machine, parked nearby while their owners crowded as close as possible to the entrance canopy of the cathedral.

Within the high vaulted interior of the big church, attendants quietly put the finishing touches to the preparations for the ceremony as guests found their way to seats.

In rooms adjoining the church proper, the ushers gathered hours before the ceremony. They were Charles H. Hines, a brother of the bride; Delano W. Ladd, of Plainfield, N. J.; Charles Clapp, Greenwich, Conn.; Noel Armstrong, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Peter J. McHugh, Chicago; Edwin T. Lamb, Jr., Norfolk, Va., and Nathan G. Osborne, Chicago and Edwar M. Thatchler, Jr., James P. Thacker, Samuel Markham; Raymond Ohmer, John K. McIntyre, Frank T. Huffman, and Willard N. Kirkpatrick, all of Dayton.

Just before the time scheduled for the ceremony, the bridesmaids arrived and waited in another room. They were:

Miss Sarane Otis, Dorothy Curtis, Edwina Love, Sytha Mark, Anna Schuetzler, of Chicago; Ruth Patterson of Cleveland; Eleanor Davies of Washington and Elizabeth Teller of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Champ Cary of Chicago, was the matron of honor, and Miss Howard, the honored maid, Margaret Stevenson and Billie Bersback, flower girl and ring bearer.

Assistants to Cardinal Mundelein were Monsignor M. J. Fitzsimmons, Mr. F. A. Purcell and Mr. B. J. Sheil, Rev. Joseph P. Morrison, acted as master of ceremonies. Assistants to Bishop Kelly celebrating the mass were Rev. Thomas D. Shannon, Rev. Fred Seidenberg, Rev. E. U. Smyth and Rev. Francis A. Ryan.

Bishop Hoban acted as chaplain and Rev. P. B. Smith was the choirmaster.

Following the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast at the Hines home in Evanston.

The home was a bower of loveliness. Coral colored roses stood majestically in tall vases all over the house. Festoons of smilax hung throughout the rooms.

The room in which the bride and her mother received the wedding guests was an exchange spot. The walls were decorated in soft blue and the draperies were of gold.

EVEN MR. COOLIDGE! Washington, Jan. 24.—Fortified with a square of ordinary smoked window pane, just as countless other Americans, President Coolidge led the nation today in viewing the phenomenon of the eclipse of the sun.

Accompanied by Mrs. Coolidge, the president went to the rear of the White House shortly before 9 a. m. and despite the biting cold, stood for five minutes viewing the eclipse through his homely instrument.

The eclipse was only 95 per cent complete in the Washington belt.

ALLIES REPLY TO NOTE OF GERMANY

London, Jan. 24.—The allies sent to Germany today an identic note in reply to the German note which protested the failure of the allies to evacuate the Cologne zone. The note was said to be formal in its tone and does not make a complete answer to Germany.

It does not contain either, it was said, details of the allies charges that Germany has violated military provisions of the Versailles treaty. This detailed charge is awaiting the completion of the allies' report, being made up by the military control commission.

CHILD PROBABLY FATALLY BURNED

Newark, O., Jan. 24.—Angelina Montano, 8 years old, is in a critical condition from burns that cover almost her entire body, received when the fire she had built in a stove, set fire to her nightgown.

The child then leaped back into bed, set fire to the bedclothing and then rushed out of doors and fell unconscious on the icy pavement. The mother dashed a bucket of water on the flames and extinguished them.

United States

Everett Sanders, Secretary of the American Astronomical Union.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 24.—"Marvelously successful," according to Prof. Ernest W. Brown, of Yale University, in regard to the observation of the eclipse here.

All observers were agreed that the observation was taken under exceptionally favorable conditions.

"The eclipse was five seconds late in New Haven, five seconds late in Ithaca, N. Y., and three seconds late in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.," Prof. Brown said. "The average throughout the eclipse area of the United States showed about four seconds lateness. This was the first time an attempt was made to chase an eclipse across the continent. The success of this experiment, warrants doing it again, we hope. The weather was doubtful before the eclipse, due to the shifting of cirrus. There was a little cloud near the sun during totality which was beautifully colored. The corona of the sun was a minimum type."

"We shall not know anything about the actual success of our observations for some days, and as to whether anything new has been discovered we shall not know for some weeks."

Many of the observers under Prof. Brown reported observing prominences during the total eclipse. Miss Mary Franks, taking temperature observations during the eclipse, reported a drop of one tenth of a degree. The thermometer read four and nine tenths degrees above zero.

Prof. Brown announced that the weather at Buffalo was cloudy, at Ithaca and Poughkeepsie, N. Y., clear.

Information as to weather conditions was secured through American Telephone and Telegraph Company wire connections between Buffalo, New Haven, Poughkeepsie, Ithaca, East Hampton, L. I., and New York City. There were through connections one half hour before the eclipse started.

"We had a rehearsal last night in which all the astronomers at these places took part," said Prof. Brown. "We had radio news of the weather last night and we had a special forecast from the weather bureau yesterday afternoon and this forecast was right."

A squad of police guarded the grounds of Yale observatory during the eclipse and were aided by a troop of boy scouts.

"Our only trouble with crowds," remarked Prof. Brown, "was with the reporters."

Then he grinned and dismissed his audience.

SING SING'S DEATH CHAIR ENDS LIVES OF THREE SLAYERS

Ossining, N. Y., Jan. 24.—Sing Sing's death chair yesterday had added three convicted murderers to the list of lives it has claimed in fulfillment of the law.

They were John T. Leonard, 22, of New York, slayer of Edward Dolge, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y.; Florence A. Lorma 29, killer of a Buffalo policeman, and Nicholas Ferranti, 45, Birmingham N. Y., who killed his common law wife.

Leonard was the first to go.

"Anybody here from the Bronx?" he asked, receiving no reply, answered his own question: "No."

"I was drunk, but I'm willing to pay the price," he declared. "I still hold out that I was drunk. That's all."

The switch was thrown at 11:02 p.m. and Leonard was pronounced dead seven minutes later. Lorma came next. He had nothing to say. He was dead at 11:19 p.m. Ferranti, the wife slayer, also had nothing to say.

RECORD IN SINGLE BOWLING IS BROKEN BY SPRINGFIELDER

This season's faculty for breaking records of long standing was exemplified Friday night at the Arcade Alleys when Jack Harms, of Springfield, lead-off man in a match game with the Arcade Allstars of Xenia, broke the alley record for a high single game set three months ago.

Harms started out with a spare in his first frame and then made seven straight strikes, before he spared again in the ninth frame. Harms made a strike on his first ball in the tenth and final frame and then spared for a grand total of 259, which broke the alley record of 255. Harms had previously set a mark of 226 bowling in a match game in Xenia that stood for several months before it was eclipsed.

Incidentally the Springfield five took three straight games from the Arcade team, bowling scores of 845, 816 and 892. Xenia rolled games of 741, 797 and 818. Harms also beat another alley record when he rolled a total of 652 for his three games, beating a previous local score of 640.

When Paavo Nurmi first announced he would run three races in three days with a jump to Chicago and return between the first and the third the skeptical shook their heads and exclaimed: "It can't be done." Nevertheless, Nurmi stepped out and did it and also added five new records to the three he established at Newark, N. J., the "Flying Finn" shattered two more world's records. Charles Weinert was at one time the best looking prospect for the heavy-weight championship in the world. He had everything—punch, speed and a wonderful physique but he would not train. He preferred the bright lights to the gym.

He lost to Firpo in two rounds and the fight was put down as a "diver." The two met again and Weinert trained faithfully for the encounter and the result was he beat the "Wild Bull" plenty bad even worse than Willis or Dempsey, according to Eastern sport scribes. He still can make lots of money but its doubtful if he has a chance for the championship crown. Weinert has been in the game for eleven years. He is 29 years of age, stands 5 foot 11 inches and weighs 190 pounds.

The Eagles gym on Whiteman Street was the scene of many a lively sparring match in the last few weeks. Many local youngsters with pugilistic ambitions got up to the gym every night or so to work out. Besides boxing and sparring there is a punching bag and stand and also a sand bag, wrist strengtheners, swinging rings and swing and pulling weights. The gym was put up for the public so why not take advantage of it?

WILMINGTON CLUB HEARS FARMER TALK

O. A. Dobbins, Cedarville, addressed members of the Wilmington Commercial Club, following the January luncheon, Thursday noon.

Mr. Dobbins, who is versed in farm problems, made four speeches in Clinton County Thursday, appearing under the auspices of farmers' institute officials.

He urged a co-operation between the city business man and the farmer in his talk before the Commercial Club. He gave an optimistic outlook for the farmer and merchant, and declared the farmer needs good prices and good crops and that when the farmer has money he will spend it in the city.

Glouster, Jan. 24—During the past few days, a veritable flight of robins have been seen at various places near here. All winter these birds were very rarely seen around here.

CENTRAL BUCKET ARTISTS ROMP OVER GREEK LETTER ATHLETES IN FAST CONTEST, 40 TO 30

BY PHIL FRAME
Playing a whirlwind game Central High School displayed the best form of the season in defeating the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity five of Wittenberg College, Springfield, by a score of 40 to 30 Friday night at the Central gym.

The big feature of the game was the floor work and accurate shooting of the Central five. Greatly outweighed and much smaller than its opponents, Central literally played the Springfield fraternity off its feet. The play was fast and clean at all times, and but one foul was called during the thirty-two minutes.

Central got the jump on A. T. O. in the first period and ran up eight points before its bigger opponents could find the net. After the first quarter, there was not much to choose between the two teams. Central led all the way.

Central was leading, 12 to 2 in the first quarter, but was outscored in the second period 12 to 8. In the third period the shoe was on the other foot and Central picked up two points on its first quarter lead by outscoring the opposition 14 to 12. The guarding was somewhat tighter in the final quarter but Xenia again bettered its rivals by two points, 6 to 4.

Rutan and Captain Perrine bore the brunt of the attack, Rutan finding the hoop for seven fielders while Perrine was good for six. Huston kicked in with three as did Buell. Towles helped out with two points.

The score would have been more one-sided but for the high class shooting of Snyder, left forward for the visitors, who scored enough points himself to win the average game.

FRIENDS DEFEAT REFORMED WHILE HOME TEAM LOSES

Tight guarding with resulting close scores again ruled supreme in the third day's play in the High School League of Sunday School Basketball Teams Thursday night. The First United Presbyterian Church team invaded the Armory at the O. S. and S. O. Home and carried away a 14 to 8 verdict, while the Friends Church had less trouble in defeating the Reformed Church 16 to 10 in a game in which better offensive work was shown.

Smith was the big gun for the winners while Hagler for the losers was close behind for high scoring honors with six points. Lineup and summary of the Reformed-Friends game:

Reformed (10)	Friends (16)
R. Chambliss	RF
B. Chambliss	LF
Hagler	C
Hisey	RG
Routzong	LG
Substitutions: Smith for Lynn, Newcomer for Smith, Mobley for Ellis.
Field goals: R. Chambliss 2, Hagler 3, Heaton 1, Smith 3, Newcomer 1, Foul goals—Smith 2, Newcomer 2. Referee: Peele.

Unusually tight guarding featured the first half of the First U. P.-Home game. The boys led the winners by a 4 to 2 score at the half, but the Church team opened up in the final period and scored twelve points, while holding the losers to two field goals. Wakely, center, starred with six points. Lineup and summary:

First U. P. (14)	Home (8)
Tribby	RF
Buckles	LF
Wakley	C
Nash	RG
Davidson	LG
Substitutions—Bales for Buckles, Louis for Elder, Moore for Tee, Field goals—Wakley 3, Davidson 2, Buckles 1, Moore 2, Smith 2, Foul goals—Davidson 1. Referee, Seal.

URBANA COLLEGE BEATS ANTIOCH IN CONTEST ON COURT

Antioch College took a 20 to 19 trimming at the hands of Urbana Junior College Thursday night at Urbana when the latter team showed a complete reversal of past form. Urbana led by one point at the half. Neither team was more than five points ahead at any point of the struggle and the score was knotted several times.

With the score eighteen all and one minute to go, Captain Lutz heaved the sphere through the strings from a difficult angle winning the game. The lineup and summary:

Antioch (19)	Urbana (20)
Kinley	LF
Hiller	MF
Allen	RF
C. Dawson	RG
M. Dawson	LG
Substitutions: Alexander for Kinley, Kenah for Hiller, Bostwick for C. Dawson, Sheedy for Stallsmith.
Field goals: Kinley 2, Hiller 1, C. Dawson 2, M. Dawson 2, Woods 3, Lutz 5, Foul goals: Lutz 3, Woods 1, Boswick 1, M. Dawson 1, Allen 1, Kenah 1, Hiller 1. Referee, Matheny, Ohio State.

INTERESTING ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED AT LUCHEON

The engagement of Miss Florence Rinck to Mr. James Paullin, both of this city, was announced in an informal manner at a handsomely appointed luncheon, given by Mrs. O. B. Shepard, sister of Miss Rinck, at her home on North Galloway Street, Saturday afternoon.

The date of the wedding has not been announced but will be in the early spring. Miss Rinck recently returned from Los Angeles, Calif., where she spent several months with relatives. Mr. Paullin is employed at The Eavey Company, this city.

Covers for ten young women, intimate friends of Miss Rinck, were laid at the luncheon table. Tiny envelopes were attached to the guests' placecards, and the announcement was read by Miss Marie Newell of Dayton. Little Barbara Ann Bowker, the honor guest's niece, acted as a dainty "Miss Cupid" and presented the ring.

The guests enjoyed cards following luncheon and after their felicitations had been extended Miss Rinck. A pink and white color scheme was carried out in the luncheon appointment and bouquets of pink roses were placed about the rooms of the Shepard home.

The guests included Miss Helen Sherman, Miss Marie Newell and Mrs. Mark Rutledge, of Dayton, and Mrs. John Bowker of Cincinnati, sister of Miss Rinck.

RISE IN PRICE OF BREAD INEVITABLE XENIA BAKERS SAY

Xenia bakers are "keeping an eye on the other fellow" while a rise in the price of bread is pending, it is said.

With the increased cost of flour and lard, higher bread prices are unavoidable, they say, but the amount of the bread price increase or when it will begin is unknown by Xenia bakers, as yet.

Local bakeries are marking time in price problem and awaiting the action of larger city concerns. The price is to be an increase of from two to four cents a loaf, it is said. Xenia prices are controlled by Springfield and Dayton prices, Xenia bakers say, since thousands of loaves of bread are brought to this city daily by out-of-town bakers.

"Something will have to be done to mean an increase in price" one Xenia baker said Saturday. "The price of flour and lard has gone out of bounds and the price of bread must be increased to insure a profit to the baker."

Flour prices have been boosted from $6.50 to $10.40 a barrel.

MRS. T. B. POWERS, FORMER XENIAN, DIES

Mrs. T. B. Powers, formerly a resident of Xenia, died at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Copenhagen, in Dayton, Friday night at 8:30 o'clock. Death came after an illness of several weeks from the effects of pleurisy and a complication of ailments, incident to her age, about 50 years.

Mrs. Powers was before her marriage, Miss Mary Granger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Granger, many years ago well known residents of Greene County and Xenia City. Members of the family came here from their native state, Massachusetts, before the Civil War.

Mrs. Powers was engaged in dressmaking here for a number of years and succeeding her marriage moved to Dayton, where she has since resided. She had often visited in Xenia and lived here last summer and part of the fall at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Arnold, West Main Street. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Copenhagen, one sister, Mrs. George W. Cretors, of Pittsburgh and three grandchildren, Mrs. Frances Croy and Mrs. Gilbert Keyes, late of Xenia, were sisters.

Members of Mrs. Powers' family are affiliated with the First M. E. Church this city. Funeral services will probably be held Monday afternoon at the Dayton home, with burial in the family plot, Woodland Cemetery, Dayton.

TONGS

The slaying of a Chinaman in Canton, Ohio, is taken as a resumption of the tong war that has spread terror among Chinese residents in this country.

The slaying is the latest in the present war that apparently began early in the winter, and has since broken out intermittently.

The first break followed a peace that resulted from an arbitration many years ago. The tongs are merely powerful secret societies or lodges, organized for social and other reasons. The war is the result of rivalry between the tongs, the advantages of one arousing the feelings and the ire of another. Thus, in order to curb this prosperous condition, the members of one tong or lodge, send emissaries to kill certain members of the other.

The actual slaying is the first intimation to police that trouble has arisen. The Chinese suspects, arrested, remain adamant in the face of questioning. They hold the slaying as a matter of their own business. Interpreters are baffled in their efforts to extract information from them.

Perhaps the police would not interfere with the little amusement of the tong members, were it not for the fact that the Chinese are notorious poor shots. When a tong member sallies forth with a pistol to snuff out the life of one of the members of the rival tong, he is just as likely as not to hit several innocent bystanders before his bullets find their intended mark.

And so the police get worried and step in right away as soon as they hear of a tong rampage. With all that shooting going on, somebody might get hurt.

THRIFT

"There is no set rule for saving or spending and the degree of thrift is adjusted by the purpose of the individual."

James A. Devine, who is secretary of the League of Building and Loan Associations of Ohio said this addressing Rotarians and Kiwanians in Xenia Thursday.

Will power, being the only incentive to saving, is assailed on all sides by temptations. We are living in an age of luxuries, when the senses are assailed by the good things of life, that require the expenditure of money.

Thus he who will save, must build a bulwark of determination about himself to shield himself from the temptations of an easy-spending world. And thus having barricaded himself against the appeal of luxuries, he may carry out a determination of thrift that will provide for his old-age, a measure of comfort.

WHEN AMBITIONS CLASH

One of the difficulties in conducting government by oligarchy as in Russia, is that divergence in views of the clash of rival ambitions is fairly certain in time to wreck the governing group.

The soviet rulers have just gone through such an internal quarrel with the result that for the time at least Trotsky, next to Lenin the leader of the revolution has been reduced to the ranks. The triumvirate, Zinoviev, Stalin and Kameneff, is in complete control.

Trotsky has been one of the organizing minds thrown up by the revolution. He was responsible for the successful organization and leadership of the Red army. Reports from Russia have indicated his impatience with the inefficiency of the bolshevik management of industry. It has been said of the quarrel that he represents the western mind, and the opposition the oriental mind.

With Lenin's death other men seized the power and Trotsky found himself on the outside. He refused to subordinate himself to the governing group. At last his enemies have got the upper hand.

But the quarrel, if human nature operates in Russia, as elsewhere, is only the first of a series of struggles between ambitious men for the mastery of the empire.—Kansas City Star.

It would be a good joke on street corner loafers if all the interesting things happened while they were at home for meals.—Defiance, O., Crescent-News.

Old-style introduction: "Please permit me to introduce myself." New style: "Gotta match?"—Youngstown, O., Vindicator.

Whatever else may be said of Leon Trotsky and his troubles, it must be admitted he is the man who had most to do with putting the "Nick" in Nicholas.—Steubenville, O., Gazette.

"Craft aids dry sleuths," says a headline writer. Probably meant "graft."—Akron, O., Beacon-Journal.

PEACE IN THE HOME

A little path to a little gate,
A shout of glee where the children wait;

A simple meal when the day is done,
Good appetites when the food comes on

With love to rule at the table fair,
Oh, what excelleth this anywhere?

Count your riches and boast your fame
But more than these you can never claim;

The faith and love of the little few
Who watch and wait at the dusk for you

If your home be glad at the long day's close
You have all that any man ever knows,

If peace be your's when the shadows fall

They can have no more in a marble hall,
And a king by his queen is never met

With a warmer welcome than that you get,
And the kiss she gives when you come from town

Would be the same if she wore a crown.

For whether you're rich or whether you're great
Doesn't matter at all where the children wait;

If love be there when the day is spent

And you sit down to your meal content,
If there's joy in your home, then while you live,
You have all that this life on earth can give.

HAS FIRE JINX

Shadyside, Jan. 24—John Leak and family have been rendered homeless by a fire, the third one in three years. While Mrs. Leak was rendering aid, the hot grease ran onto the kitchen floor and ignited the wood. Their home, with all its contents, was destroyed before neighbors, due to icy roads, could arrive from their farm homes. Two years ago, Leak's barn and crop burned. Last year, he rented a barn in which he stored his grain. Soon after harvest, lightning hit it, the fire destroying the barn.

WOMAN BANK OFFICER

Tiltonville, Jan. 24—Mrs. Ann Walker, Dillonvale, has been chosen vice president of the People's Bank. It is claimed she is the first woman to hold such a position in Eastern Ohio. She was appointed as a tribute to the memory of her husband, the late Henry Walker, who was president of the bank.

PUZZLE: FIND THE INVENTOR OF THE AIRPLANE

1905-Twenty Years Ago-1925

An exceedingly interesting and instructive program has been arranged for the farmers' institute at Yellow Springs, which will be held in the Opera House Wednesday and Thursday.

The Y. M. C. A. team had some good practice last evening and tonight will have a final round-up on the rink floor in preparation for the basketball game with O. S. U. Friday night.

Judge Shoup, of the Probate Court on Wednesday received the splendid head of the great moose he brought down in a hunt in the wilds of New Brunswick several weeks ago. He had left it there to be mounted.

Dr. Izenaga's lecture at the Opera House Monday evening was devoted wholly to a description of condition in China.

grom, because of just these interruptions.

On the other hand, what is more satisfactory than giving time to our friends? I'd rather "shatter" all the housework schedules in the world than wound a friend by not having time to receive her friendly little call cordially. I'd realize what these back-door calls mean to us—how dear they are, in their cosy intimacy—if our Neighbor Friends should cease making them. It is better to be a little inefficient in our housework than lonely. Neighborhood life is the sweetest thing in the world.

"I have been reading a book on 'Time Budgets,'" says a letter which I have just received from one of our Reader Friends, "the efficiency expert who wrote this book advises the housewife to apportion her day so that one hour is devoted to this task and another to that task. Since reading that book I have tried out the plan; I chose one of the many Times Budgets and changed it slightly (to suit my individual needs—as advised). But it didn't work because I was constantly interrupted by calls from my neighbors! No 'Time Schedule' allows for these unforeseen interruptions! Just as I got my schedule to working nicely I received a call from my right-hand neighbor who ran over to borrow something—and spent 30 minutes telling me how another woman was unkind to her after the Ladies' Aid Meeting.

"When this neighbor went home I returned to my shattered schedule revised it slightly, again got into its pace—when I suddenly was called to my kitchen door by my left-hand neighbor who had come over to tell me that her baby had coughed the night before. Of course I invited her in and proceeded to give my advice concerning the application of goose-grease and nutmeg to the baby's chest; and from there I went on to cite perhaps a dozen instances in which the goosegrease-and-nutmeg treatment had proved eminently successful! Thus, from this experience I have come to the conclusion that no country housekeeper, at least, can make a Time Budget work. Perhaps it would suit a city woman who lived in an apartment house (where the neighbors do not call they tell me!) but I defy any small-town housewife to follow a Housework Schedule, any in, day out, for a week.

I am sure that this letter will interest many housekeepers. For it is so absolutely true! It is difficult for us to put through our planned pro-

Today's Talks

THE GOOD OLD TIMES

I hear so many people cry for the "good old times." Yet when these same good old times were on there were people who cried for the same thing.

The fact is that when people are unable to keep up with the procession and join the new order of things; they throw out a "smoke screen" in the guise of a request something like this: "Please wait! I dropped something."

Such people are always dropping or losing something that they should carry and keep as regular equipment for the fine and important tasks of life.

No matter how hard we are pressed no matter what we have to add in burdens as the years accumulate, I believe that we should grow happier and happier. There are always compensations for every loss.

I notice when the body is injured that nature always comes to the rescue in strengthening other organs or parts of the body so as to help make up for any loss. Lose one eye and your other one is given greater strength for its double duty.

I would much rather live 100 years from now than to have lived 100 years ago.

No matter how long this earth keeps alive and people move and strive, the thing to be done will always take precedent over what has already been done.

Youth is stretched by keeping right in line in the procession. I like to talk and associate with people who are always thinking ahead of what has already been thought out.

There is no more valuable man or citizen than he who gives his life to research, experiment and invention. In Pittsburgh there is a man who makes bread and who incidentally sells more than any other baker. He did it this way. He had a laboratory work out a method of making bread so that it would hold its moisture and thereby keep fresh for two more days. He looked ahead. He wasn't "the good old times" sort of a man.

It is possible for you to make tomorrow a much better and happier day than today. This is the way: Make today better than yesterday!

New and Still Lower Prices
Greater Values Made Still Greater

Reductions are announced in the prices of good Maxwell models, coincident with the advent of the new Standard Sedan.

The new good Maxwell has long led in value all other cars in its field, because as a dollar-for-dollar buy its quality could not be equaled. Not only in performance and riding qualities does it surpass all fours, but these new and lower prices now make it a better investment than ever before, and great values are made still greater.

KIWANIS TO GIVE BENEFIT SHOW FOR WELFARE WORK FUND

To raise funds for city welfare work the Xenia Kiwanis club, will present a "welfare show" at the Jean B. Elwell auditorium in Central High School, the evening of February 12, it was announced Saturday.

The show is to be a combined movie and vaudeville program, the vaudeville program to include five acts. The motion picture will be Buster Keaton's latest release, "The Navigator."

The vaudeville skits will be headlined by the "premier artists" Elbert L. Babb and Roy Hayward, members of the club, who are well known to Xenia home-talent patrons.

Babb and Hayward will present an original act, "The Mariners—More Modern Than Ancient."

Several numbers will be given by the "Harmony Four Quartette" under the direction of Karl R. Babb. The Ki-Ro Orchestra will play for the program, directed by Elwood Dunkle.

The vaudeville program will be augmented by musical acts by Miss Helen Hurley and Mrs. Charles Adair and by a comedy-vaudeville act by Ora Saunders, Washington, C. H. former Keith circuit vaudeville artist.

"Dr. Seabone" will give a health talk on "How to Live to be 150 Years Old."

The proceeds of the show will be used by the Kiwanis Club for welfare work in the city. The club has sponsored baby clinics for two years and has done other valuable work along welfare lines.

Tickets for the show will be in the hands of Kiwanians and patrons are asked to buy their tickets as soon as possible in order to get good seats.

SPRING VALLEY

The funeral of Mrs. Joseph Sims held at the Friends Church Saturday afternoon, conducted by Rev. T. M. Scarff.

Mrs. Evelyn Luce, a former resident of this place, now of Bellview, is very critically ill.

Mrs. Frank Kyne, who has been so critically ill, is some better at this writing.

Mrs. Jack Reeves is recovering from her operation very nicely.

Mrs. Mary Smith, of Xenia, is visiting her sister, Miss Minerva Lincolnton.

Miss Reva Spahr is ill with rheumatism at her home in New Jasper.

Mrs. Esta Mamer is teaching in her place.

Mr. and Mrs. Pliny St. John spent Sunday in Springfield, with Mr. St. John's uncle, Mr. John Peterson.

The Farmers' Institute this year was a splendid success. Those receiving prizes for spelling were, Opal Harner, Helen Fletcher, Bill Meyer and Minnie Peterson.

Those receiving prizes for posters were, Hazel Mae Hartsock, Mildred Turner, Carl Sutton and Max Dean Hartsock.

The old fashioned spelling bee on Monday evening was also an enjoyable feature.

12 The Reunion
(Drawing: King Hyselac)
On the earth, beside the swamp in which Beowulf had plunged, the warriors waited disconsolately. After a while the War-Danes left, and Beowulf was dead. The Geatmen on Beowulf appeared from out swamp and then was there re-union of the party arrived back at Hrothgar's palace much treasure did this great king give them for the noble deeds the champion had accomplished. Even so should be the reward of a brave man by a just king.

In spirits high with triumph the Geatmen prepared to return to their native country, to lay their treasures at the feet of their king, Hyselac—as was the custom in those days. Thus they got into their good ship and sailed away.

Soon they came to Geatland—to the land of their kinsman, Hyselac—and offered him their treasure which he most generously did divide among them.

(Something big happens to Beowulf before the week is over. Don't miss any chapters.)

INFLUENZA RAGING
Tokio, Jan. 24.—Reports of an influenza epidemic in the Tokio area in which 4700 persons are reported dead, have been exaggerated, Tokio municipal health authorities said today, although there are between thirty and forty deaths daily. This, however, is only slightly above normal for this time of the year, it was stated. Lack of rain is claimed to have caused the epidemic.

Our Latchstring Is Always Out

THOUSANDS of people visited the exchanges of The Ohio Bell Telephone Company over the state during TELEPHONE WEEK. The total was many times greater than the number of visitors in all of 1924. They were fascinated and interested by what they saw and acquired a new understanding of what is involved in giving them telephone service.

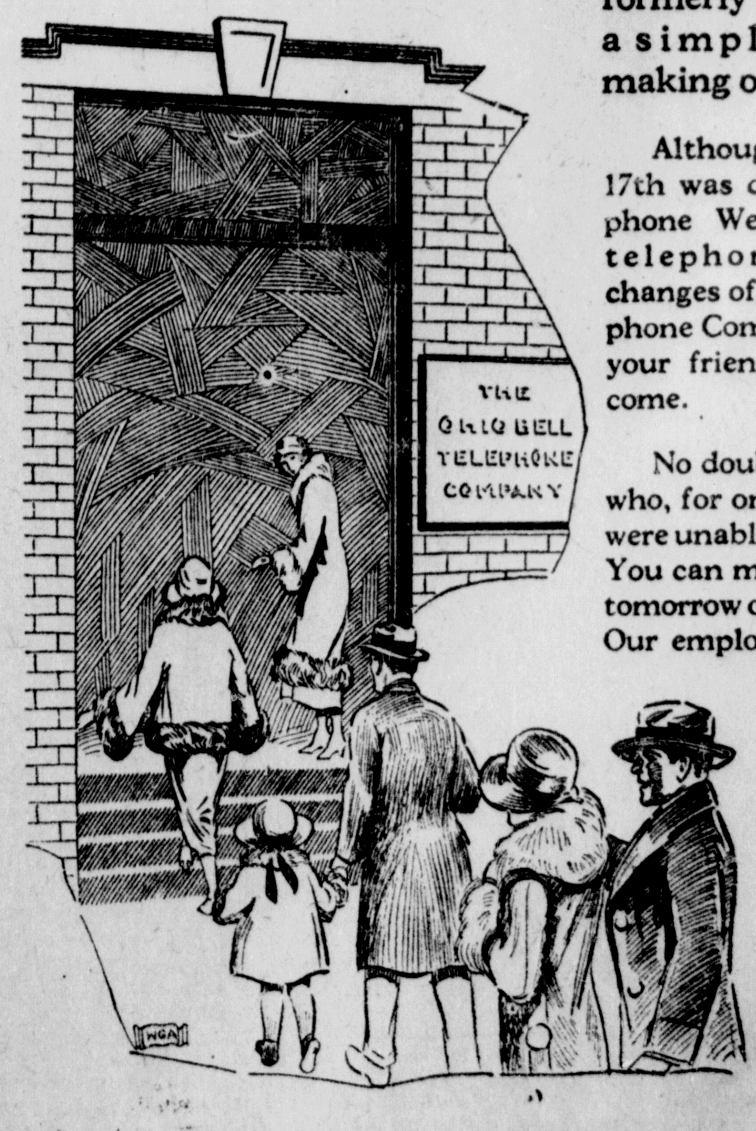

Few of the visitors had any conception of the intricate mechanism required and the infinite care needed in what had formerly seemed to them a simple operation---the making of a telephone call.

Although January 12th to 17th was designated as "Telephone Week," every week is telephone week in the exchanges of The Ohio Bell Telephone Company when you and your friends are always welcome.

No doubt there were many who, for one reason or another, were unable to visit us last week. You can make the visit today, tomorrow or any day you desire. Our employees are always glad to take you behind the scenes and show you just how your calls are handled.

The latchstring is always out.

"TINY" ALICE FOULTON. INTL.

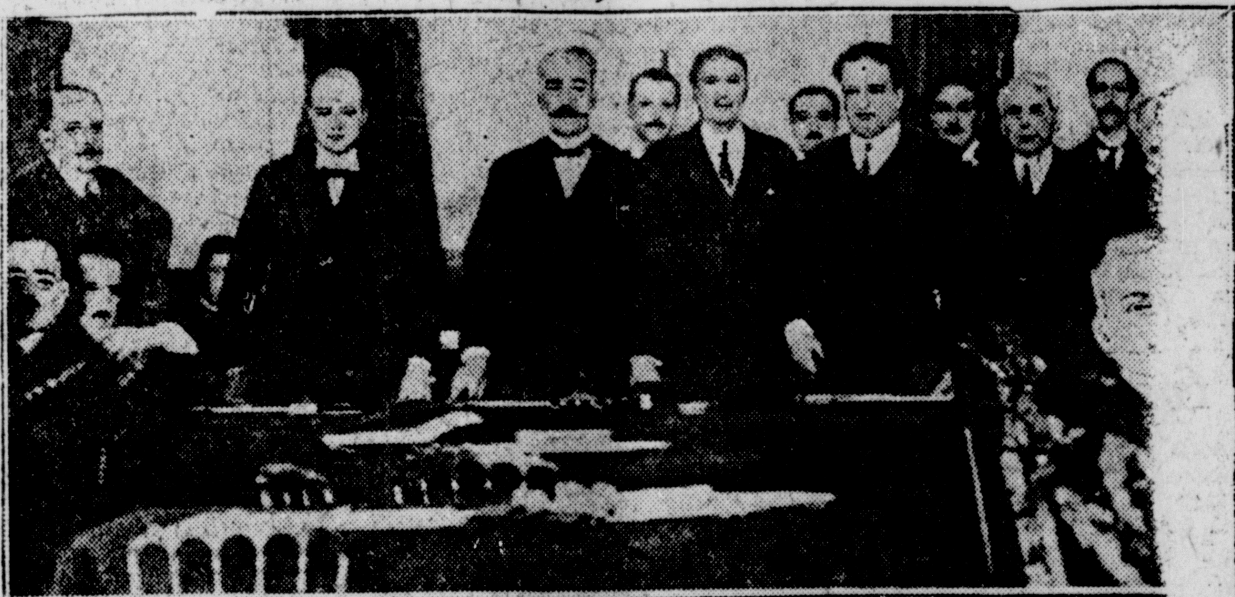

"Tiny" Alice Foulton, now in a Los Angeles museum, carries 665 pounds of flesh lightly and dances with ease and joy before the camera. To reach California, it was necessary to rebuild a freight box car, the girl being too large to get into an ordinary Pullman.

SUBMARINE S-19 BATTERED BY STORM

Submarine S-19, beaten off her course by a terrific gale, was driven ashore on Nauset Shoal, Cape Cod, Mass., with five officers and thirty-five enlisted men on board. Rolling on a sandbar about 300 feet from the beach, the undersea craft was battered by huge waves that rolled over her. The officers and men were compelled to remain on board, and coast guard cutters stood by to render aid. The photograph shows the submarine on the bar.

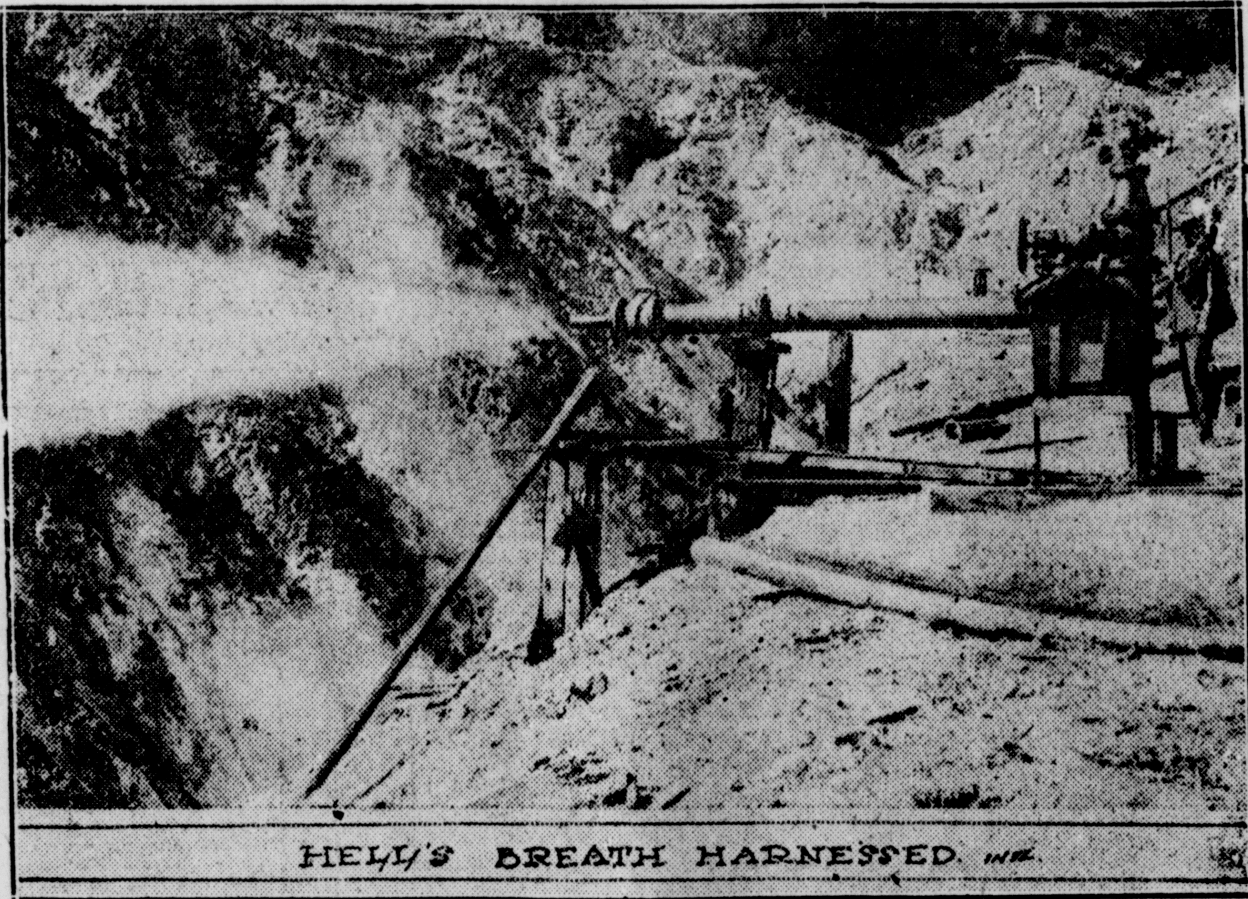

NEW VICTORY FOR U. S. IN REPARATIONS

ALLIED REPARATIONS GROUP. INTL.

"HELL'S BREATH" HARNESSSED TO TURN DYNAMO.

HELL'S BREATH HARNESSSED. INTL.

The great unknown power of steam emanating from the famous geyser in Sulphur Canyon, near Healdsburg, Cal., is being harnessed by engineers to develop electric energy. This photograph shows one of the traps to convert the natural steam into power. In an isolated district in Italy, north of Rome, is the only other plant in the world where steam wells have been sunk in an extinct volcano bed. But the Italian wells give off steam so thick, with uncondensable gases and harmful acids it cannot be used directly in an engine. It must be used to heat other water. In California, however, the steam is sent directly into the engine.

MULE BACK ELOPERS REACH U. S.

MRS. BEATRICE BOURNE. INTL.

Something unique in elopements was performed by Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Boneau, of San Salvador, Central America, who have just reached San Francisco. It was at a social affair in their home city that Senorita Julita Mena slipped away from her duenna and met Boneau, who was waiting nearby with a pair of saddle mules. They rode twenty-five miles to Mexicanos, where Governor Alexander Salazar performed the ceremony. Their fathers, wealthy coffee planters, pursued on mule back, but, after brief hesitation, granted filial pardon.

STRANGEST KNOCKOUT ON RECORD

STRANGE KNOCK-OUT. INTL.

The strangest knockout on record occurred in the semi-final of the Walker-McTigue fight in Newark, N. J., in which the opponents were Jack Rappaport and Bobby Barrett. In the eighth round Barrett, a welterweight, brought over a terrific right to Rappaport's jaw, knocking him cold. Rappaport fell face forward, landing squarely on top of his head. Ringside followers thought he had a broken neck, but he quickly revived.

SLEEPING BEAUTY

(Bed Time Story for Xenia Tots)

Once upon a time there was a king with no troubles in the world. But one day a baby arrived and then his troubles began. The youngest, too, put up an awful howl.

Now, there was an old witch who lived near who came in wringing her hands instead of the doorbell. Of course the king should have wrung her neck.

She sat down on a hairpin which was sticking through a cushion of a chair, which got her and her dandruff up. So she said she would place a curse on the baby—that it would be pricked by a hairpin and sleep for one hundred years.

The king took no chances. He sent word that all the hairpins in the world should be destroyed. Any woman found wearing one would be killed. Some of the women tied their hair up with baling wire. Some wore chicken wire around their heads. Some placed their heads in barrels of sorghum molasses every morning. I tell you they had a time in those days, since they did not know enough to bob it.

The baby grew to be a fine girl and got along fine until one day when she was twenty years of age she went into a restaurant. She ordered a piece of pie and bit into a hair pin. Then she fell asleep. The pie had been baked for 21 years.

The king took the girl and placed her in an abandoned castle in a deep woods. One day a young prince who was hunting in the woods got lost and bunked in the old castle all night. Imagine his surprise to find the girl there asleep. He touched her and she awoke. The one hundred year period was up.

The prince was very happy. They were married and lived happily for two or three weeks, as the custom is to this very day. Good night, darlings!

FRESH AIR LOVER

There was a young lady named Clair,
Who said: "I've doffed all that I dare,
If I go to a dance,
Folks will know at a glance,
That I like to be out in the air."

It's a funny world. The girls are spending hard earned tin to get rid of some of their foliage, while many a poor man is worrying along with tonics, massages, etc., trying to get his back. By the way, we have a special place on this page for beauty parlors and barber shops to advertise. Phone and ask about it.

MRS. CONOVER TELLS OF EXPERIENCES IN WAR RIDDEN FRANCE
Stories of her personal experiences in France, word pictures of the premier of France and a brief analysis of the present French attitude were the outstanding features of a lecture given at the First Baptist Church, Thursday evening by Mrs. Charlotte Reeves Conover, Dayton, as the third of a series of lectures on International Relations which she is giving under the auspices of the Xenia Business and Professional Woman's Club for the benefit of the Greene County Library. In speaking of the French attitude she said it could be summed up in their desire for just one thing—security. "For generations France has been the battle ground of the world," she said. In making a comparison she would be local she said that if once in every twenty-five years armies would come smashing through the Miami Valley from Kentucky driving the people from their homes and leaving devastation in their wake the people of this community would be in the position of France. About every twenty five years their country is made a battle ground and they are getting tired of it. In order to make it impossible for Germany to attack them they want to keep Germany impoverished. They stand in such fear of attack that they want to be armed to the teeth. France was embittered beyond words by the war. On the French side of the Rhine is the burning desire for revenge and on the German side is a sullen hate. The Dawes plan has been the only ray of hope in the situation.

In speaking of the condition in the homes of France Mrs. Conover said their lives are destitute of social affairs, and of all the pleasures that formerly made life bright. People used to the services of many servants are now doing their own work. Beautiful homes, furnished with almost priceless possessions are standing practically unused because the owners cannot afford servants to care for them.

The young women of France are being forced into business life as stenographers, a condition that the older women of France greatly deplore but that Mrs. Conover believes will be the best thing that could come to the women of the country.

Mrs. Conover will speak next Thursday evening on the conference at Geneva, Switzerland. The lectures are open to the public.

MODISH MITZI—Directoire Period Has Penetrating Influence By Jay V. Jay

The Directoire Mode was French. Most lingerie is of, by, or from France. Here is lingerie both French and Directoire. The nightgown that Mitzi wears has a deep frill with scalloped edge. It even has a small belt to indicate a high wasteline. Polly wears a cunning two-piece set scalloped edge. It really matches the nightgown that Mitzi wears.

It is Polly, this time who wears a combination with a lace yoke effect hanging from the shoulders. The waist is practically a bodice and fits snugly. The skirt is finely pleated. The arrow marks the spot where her heart should be. Mitzi wears a crepe de chine "comby" of the same design. The pantaloons are pleated just as the skirt of Polly's garment is. One can be thoroughly directoire in any garment.

SMALL CROWD HEARS EXPLORER TALK ON BIG GAME HUNTING

Only a few people heard L. O. Armstrong, internationally known explorer and lecturer, give an interesting and instructive talk on "Whales and Sea Lions" and other subjects at the Central High School Auditorium Thursday night. His talk was accompanied by a series of motion pictures, slides and amusing anecdotes.

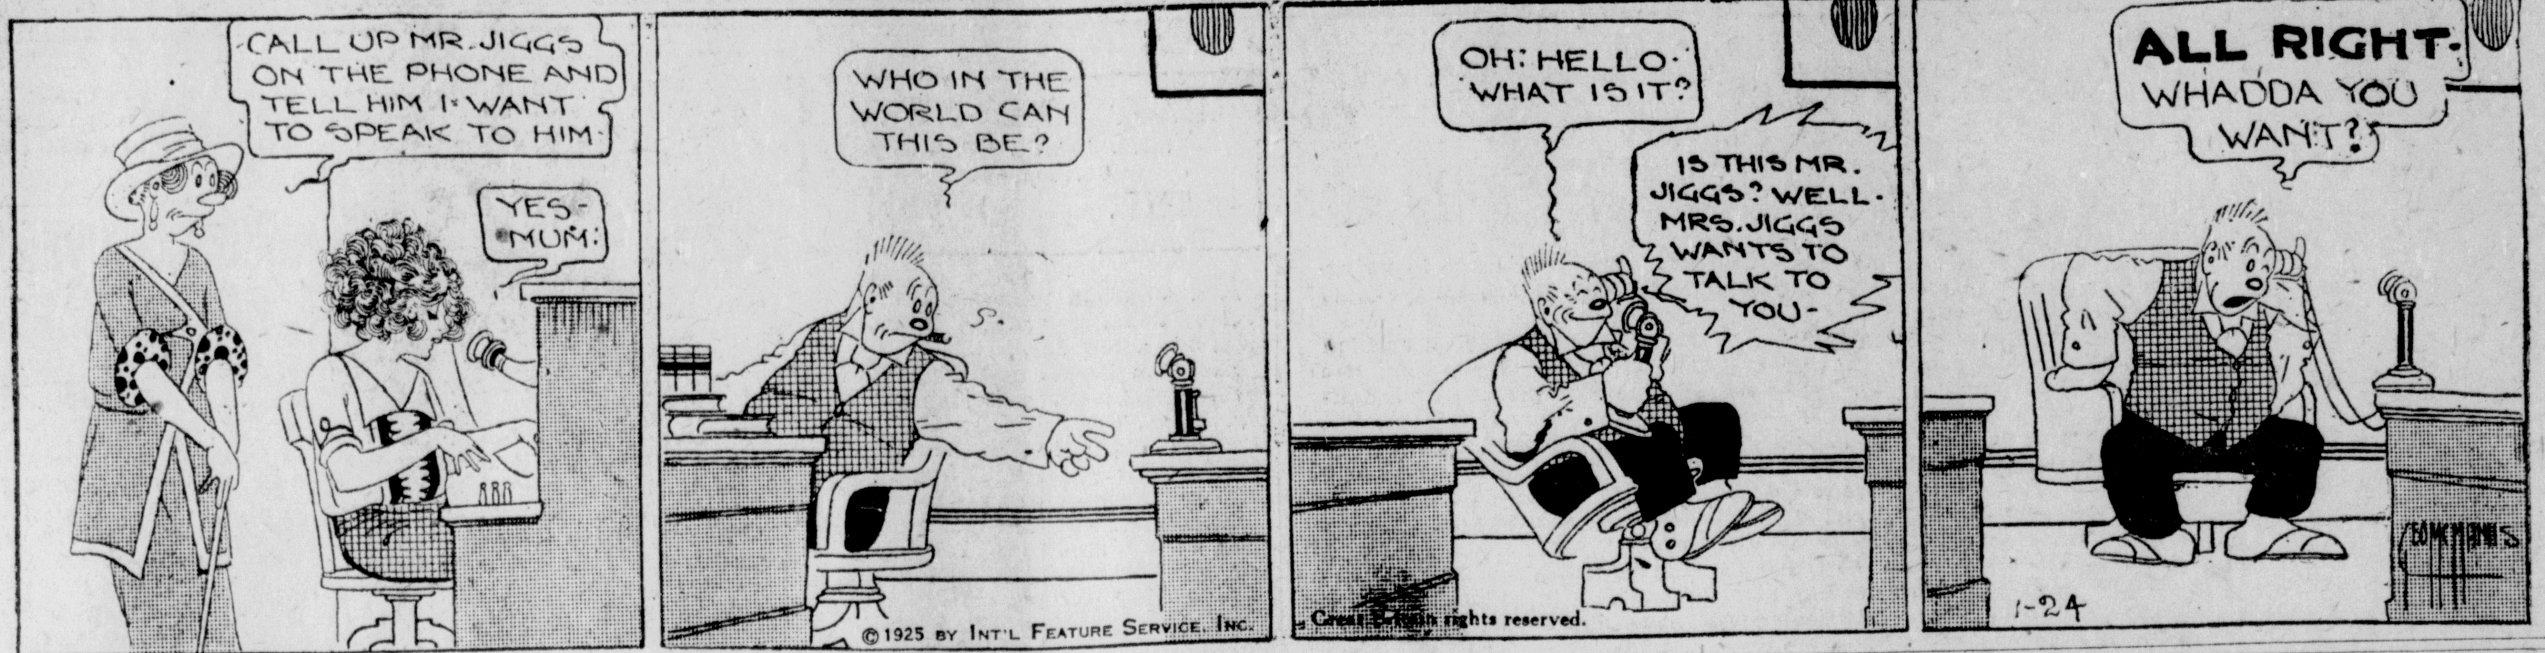

Mr. Armstrong, who has spent forty years of exploration for the government and railways, is one of the few surviving "coursier du bois," those pioneers who blazed the way westward from the Mississippi River across the Rockies to the Pacific Ocean.

Mr. Armstrong declared that it was a delightful journey getting to the whaling country, features of which are: chasing the vessel; swarms of birds coming for the anticipated feast; the lookout at the crow's nest; the hunt; the harpooning; the flap of the whales tail; being towed out to sea at twenty miles an hour by a whale; the tiring whale stopping to breathe again and again; finally exhausted; it turns over, and last of all, is hauled alongside the whaling vessel.

Stories of sea lions and sea birds accompanied by slides of many of his experiences and other incidents, such as frightening the denizens off for greater safety in hunting; being towed in an open boat by a sea lion; killing one big specimen, racing a big moose in the Yukon River and incidental pictures of a trip on an iceberg.

Fishing pictures were shown on the screen by Mr. Armstrong and territory shown where "big catches" were a common occurrence.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED.

XLIII—LOVE'S TEMPTATION

PATRICIA smiled gratefully at her companion in the sun parlor of the great, luxurious hospital. "There is a letter here I must read," she told him.

VIOLET DARE

she read through blurred eyes. "I learned that on the train to Chicago you were with Gregory Hewitt. I could hardly be expected to believe that such a meeting was accidental. And then to learn that you had accompanied him in his private car on a trip to the Southwest—even though your sister and her husband were along—seemed to me to carry but one implication: that you had tired of me and all I had to offer. That our years together meant no more to you than to me. I can tell you, but that you would steel away on a subterfuge instead of coming to me frankly seems inconceivable. I was sorry to hear of your accident, but cannot believe that it was that alone that kept you from coming to New York to meet me on my return from Europe. I understand only too well that you do not want to see me again."

The teardrops splashed unnoticed down Patricia's cheeks as she gazed uncomprehendingly at the letter in her hand. And it wasn't until her aged neighbor handed her a handkerchief and consolingly said, "There, there, little girl. It's too bad. Is there anything I can do for you?" that she realized what she was doing.

"No, no, nothing," she sulked; "only I wish my nurse would come and wheel me to my room. I—" but the rest of her sentence was veiled in tears which she could not control.

The next day, when she felt more composed, she sought out her friend of the day before and tried to apologize to him, but he would not hear of it.

"I don't wish to intrude, but I felt your grief last night so keenly; I wanted so much to do something to comfort you, and there was nothing a stranger could do. But forgive an old man, please, for meddling in your affairs. Is there anything I could do for you?"

"Nothing," Patricia smiled at him gratefully. "Nothing that I can think of."

"Then may I take the liberty of asking you to do something for me?" he asked her.

"Of course," Patricia, taken completely by surprise, sat up alertly, her eyes glowing with interest.

"I'll have to begin by telling you something about myself," he began, "but I'll make it as brief as possible, for you have an understanding heart and will fill in the gaps in my story. My name is Clayton Gillespie; you may have heard of me."

At mention of the name Patricia's memory yielded up many little details—philanthropies she had read about, schools this man had endowed, young people of talent whom he had helped.

"I am getting too old to look after all my charitable interests," he went on, "and yet they are too dear to me to have them turned over to any sort of organization. I pride myself that whatever I have given money to I have also given personal attention and real human interest. That is how you can help me. You must want to do something now that your husband is gone. Why can't you represent me at some of these many meetings I must attend? Decide for me what cases are worthy? Look up young people who need encouragement? You are the only person I have ever met who seemed to me fitted for the job. Won't you consider it?"

"Oh, Mr. Gillespie, you are too good, too kind," Patricia sobbed. "You don't know how much you have done for me giving me an interest just at this time. I will do my best to help you."

The next day she was permitted to walk a little, and a few days after that she was ready to leave the hospital. But by that time she and Gillespie had perfected the plans whereby she was to become immediately on her arrival in New York—one of the most powerful figures in the philanthropic world. All that there remained for her to do now was to break the news to Andrew.

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

Why is it advantageous to have a very substantial margin when buying stocks on "margin"?

It is advisable to have a substantial margin, because, although the margin is intended primarily as a protection for the broker against loss through fluctuations in the market price of security, the large margin affords an even greater protection to the investor.

Stock fluctuations do not always represent changes in the intrinsic value of shares of stock. If a stock is weakly margined and a temporary decline comes on, the stock must often be sacrificed and the subsequent rise in price, which frequently occurs in such cases, will in no way benefit the speculator—due to his "skinny" margins. The speculator would be sold out at the first break in prices.

No sensible person should engage in marginal trading unless he is prepared to deposit a substantial portion of the market price of the security as a margin.

Junior Cross Word Puzzle

HOW TO SOLVE PUZZLE

The words start in the numbered squares and run either across or down. Only one letter is placed in each white square. If the proper words are found each combination of letters in the white squares will form words. The key to the puzzle—the first word—is given in the drawing below are keys to the other words.

(RUNNING ACROSS)
Word 1. A fruit the man in the picture is selling.
Word 2. A tropical fruit.
Word 3. The farmer—hay while the sun shone.
Word 4. What all things we eat are called.
Word 5. The most common vegetable.
(RUNNING DOWN)
Word 1. One of the words in this sentence. "All that I am I owe to my mother."
Word 2. A boy's nickname.

Your Income Tax

No. 8

It should be noted that the revenue act of 1924 provides specifically that the status of a taxpayer relative to the amount of his personal exemptions shall be determined by apportionment in accordance with the number of months the taxpayer was single, married or the head of a family.

Under the preceding act the amount of the exemption to which the taxpayer was entitled was determined by his status as a single person, married person or the head of a family on the last day of the taxable year.

A taxpayer, who was married on June 30, 1924, is entitled to an exemption of $1,750. For the first six months of the taxable year he is classed as a single person who is single for the complete taxable year—and for the last six months he is classed as a married person, entitling him to an exemption of $1,250, one-half of the exemption allowed a married person living with wife or husband for the full taxable year. If on June 30 he became a widower, he is classed as a married person for the first half of the year and as a single person for the latter half. In such computations a fractional part of a month is disregarded, unless it amounts to more than half a month, in which case it is considered a full month. These figures are based on the assumption that the return is made on the calendar year basis, as most are.

If on June 30, 1924, a taxpayer ceased being the head of a family—the support in one household of a relative or relatives being discontinued—he is granted the same exemption as in the case of a taxpayer married on June 30, a total of $1,750. With regard to the $400 credit for a dependent, however, it is provided that the taxpayer's status on the last day of the taxable year (December 31, if the return is made on the calendar year basis) shall determine his right to such credit. If on that day he was the chief support of a dependent who is under 18 years of age, or is incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective, he is entitled to the $400 credit. If during the year his support of such dependent ceased, the credit is not allowed.

THOUSANDS WATCH ECLIPSE OF SUN

ARMY OF SCIENTISTS RECORDS PHENOMENON IN BELT OF TOTALITY

Laymen Gaze Skyward Through Smoked Glass as Nature Unfolds Spectacle—New York Stops To Let Moon Pass By.

New York, Jan. 24.—Millions of human eyes peered into the heavens today to witness a phenomenon at once awesome and magnificent, a total eclipse of the sun.

Twenty million persons, stretched across a 100 mile path, extending from the rolling plains of Minnesota eastward to the throbbing metropolis of New York on the Atlantic seaboard, turned out to view this rarest of dramas known to mankind, a spectacle unsurpassed in the annals of modern history.

A great celestial pencil, which was to throw an arc of darkness across the map of the United States was the magnet that drew the gaping millions. The sweep of blackness was to be in a huge cycle-shaped curve, 100 miles wide and 3,090 miles long, from Red Lake, Minn., to a point in the Atlantic ocean in the Shetland islands. It was to cover the distance in one hour and forty-three minutes at an average speed of one half a mile a second, or 188 miles an hour.

Every hamlet, town or city in the belt of totality was choked with dense crowds of enraptured sky gazers long before eight o'clock this morning at which hour scientists had asserted the black "pencil" would begin its spectacular sweep across Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Pennsylvania and New York to the ocean.

And New York, no less than elsewhere was a throb of expectancy. Business was practically at a standstill. Many stores were closed. Traffic just crowded along. The populace thrilled at the prospect of seeing this great astral spectacle that will not be witnessed here again until 2144, had virtually declared a forenoon holiday. Even the staid New York stock exchange had delayed its time honored hour of opening so that the bulls and bears would not miss the phenomena of seeing night in the daytime.

New Haven, Conn., at the center, had two minutes of absolute eclipse! New York City at the northern border at thirty seconds.

At eight o'clock the sun was well up over the clouds, almost red in hue. Then slowly it turned to its natural color of bright silver.

Men, women and children in crowds thronged to points of vantage to view the spectacle. They were to tops of high buildings, bridges, to the decks of ships in the harbor, to tall cliffs and heights in the environs of the city.

Some of the most adventurous even climbed telegraph poles.

Those unable to get good seats to see the great drama that was being enacted, stood in great throngs in the streets, gazing upward through smoked glasses, and jabbering excitedly to their neighbors.

Strikingly spectacular methods to obtain scientific information were brought into place. At 5:40 o'clock the great naval dirigible Los Angeles took off from her hangar at Lakehurst, N. J., with the greatest flying scientific laboratory ever placed on board an airship to view the eclipse and take photographs as close as range as possible, a height of 8,000 feet.

Long before eight o'clock, planes took the air from Mitchell field. Thirty-five army planes, the greatest concentration of fighting aircraft since the war, had waited all night for a favorable opportunity to take the air.

Thirteen astronomical laboratories, lying in the path of totality, many scientists, students and laymen climbed the famous Mount Beacon, 1500 feet above sea level, to see the spectacle.

At 9:11 a.m. the eclipse had reached totality in upper New York.

An eerie darkness shrouded Manhattan about 11th Street, in which the throngs of watchers appeared as smudgy black masses, hushed and intently alert to the rare spectacle.

DOUBLE TWINS!

New York, Jan. 24.—Two sets of twins, two boys and two girls—were born yesterday to Mrs. Catherine Kelly, at her home in Brooklyn.

The heaviest of the babies weighs three pounds, the lightest weighed two and a quarter pounds. Three were said by doctors to be healthy and strong, while doubt exists as to the fourth's fate. The mother's condition is excellent.

When the infants were sent to a hospital she refused to leave her home, saying she had to look after her other four children.

To John Kelly, the father, the precinct captain who called an ambulance, sent this message: "More power to the Irish Kellys."

MASONIC OFFICERS MEET IN COLUMBUS

Columbus, O., Jan. 24.—More than 250 Blue Lodge officers of the Fourteenth Masonic district will meet here today. Degrees will be conferred, ritualistic work exemplified.

The district, comprising Franklin and Delaware counties includes 28 lodges. Judge James R. Ruhl, Cleveland, grandmaster of Free and Accepted Masons of Ohio, as honor guest, will make an address at a dinner tonight.

PASTOR TO RESIGN

The Rev. J. P. White, pastor of the Cedarville United Presbyterian Church has announced to his congregation that owing to ill health, he expects to offer his resignation in the near future. The resignation will probably be offered in April when the Presbyterian meets. The Rev. Mr. White has been pastor of the Cedarville church for five and one-half years and for some time has been afflicted with nervous trouble.

NOW LOOK WHAT ECLIPSE DID—HOUSE BURNS DOWN FROM MATCH USED TO SMOKE GLASS

Cleveland, Jan. 24.—The family of Louis Fishelman, 14, should have received a greater "kick" out of the almost total eclipse of the sun today than any other Clevelanders.

Louis this morning, tossed a lighted match, with which he had been smoking a piece of glass into a pan of gasoline. The resulting blaze burned the house, and as Louis' father remarked, "I hope it's a good show. It will have to be worth the price to me."

BAR MOVES TO BAR LAWYERS WHO CHASE AMBULANCES NOW

Cleveland, O., Jan. 24.—A proposed act to end "ambulance chasing" by lawyers, which would include a complete code of ethics, for the legal profession, was on the program for the closing days session of the Ohio Bar Association at the Hotel Hollenden here.

The measure, drafted by a committee of the association, brought a storm of protest from members yesterday.

The argument was presented that the measure was designed to aid corporations and to make more difficult the securing of justice by poor persons injured in accidents. Present indications point to its return to the committee which drafted it for further consideration.

Election of officers was also scheduled for today.

Last night, Norman Hapgood, New York, magazine editor, and Max D. Steuer, famous New York trial lawyer, debated the question "Can a Poor Man Secure Justice in American Courts?"

Hapgood asserted that the courts had destroyed the right of trial by jury in contests between capital and labor. Steuer refuted this charge and challenged the editor to point to a single instance where the supreme court had favored the powerful against the poor.

POLES APPLAUD AS U. S. DEBT FUNDING AGREEMENT OFFERED

Warsaw, Jan. 24.—America's popularity as a creditor was evinced in a noisy demonstration in the Polish diet today when the Polish-American debt funding agreement was presented.

It was unanimously ratified amid cheers for the United States.

Premier Grabski expressed the deep gratitude of Poland to the United States for help extended during the war.

Dr. Alfred J. Pearson, of Iowa, American minister to Poland, was present in the diet and was cheered by the legislators.

Hines - Howard Nuptials Elaborately Solemnized

Chicago, Jan. 24.—Chicago's most magnificent wedding was solemnized at high noon today when Miss Loretta Hines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hines, of Evanston, was married to Howell Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Howard, of Dayton, O., in the Holy Name Cathedral.

George, Cardinal Mundelein officiated. Aside from the artistic beauty the ecclesiastical importance of the wedding overshadowed every thing else.

It was the first ceremony presided over by Cardinal Mundelein since he was elevated.

Although the mother of the bride had said the wedding would be simple and unostentatious, members of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra played a fanfare as the Cardinal and his entourage crossed the nave of his throne, and Tito Schippa, Chicago civic opera star, sang a low mass following the ceremony.

Within the high vaulted interior of the big church, attendants quietly put the finishing touches to the preparations for the ceremony as guests found their way to seats.

In rooms adjoining the church proper, the ushers gathered hours before the ceremony. They were Charles H. Hines, a brother of the bride; Delano W. Ladd, of Plainfield, N. J.; Charles Clapp, Greenwich, Conn.; Noel Armstrong, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Peter J. McHugh, Chicago; Edwin T. Lamb, Jr., Norfolk, Va.; and Nathan G. Osborne, Chicago and Edgar M. Thatcher, Jr., James P. Thatcher, Samuel Markham; Raymond Ohmer, John K. McIntyre, Frank T. Huffman, and Willard N. Kirkpatrick, all of Dayton.

Just before the time scheduled for the ceremony, the bridesmaids arrived and waited in another room. They were:

Miss Sarane Otis, Dorothy Curtis, Edwina Love, Sytha Mark, Anna Schuetzler, of Chicago; Ruth Patterson of Cleveland; Eleanor Davies of Washington and Elizabeth Telfer of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Champ Cary of Chicago, was the matron of honor, and Miss Howard, the honored maid, Margaret Stevenson and Billie Bersback, flower girl and ring bearer.

Assistants to Cardinal Mundelein were Monsignor M. J. Fitzsimmons, Mgr. F. A. Purcell and Mgr. B. J. Sheil. Rev. Joseph P. Morrison, acted as master of ceremonies. Assistants to Bishop Kelly celebrating the mass were Rev. Thomas D. Shannon, Rev. Fred Seidenberg, Rev. E. U. Smyth and Rev. Francis A. Ryan.

Bishop Hoban acted as chaplain and Rev. P. B. Smith was the choirmaster.

Following the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast at the Hines home in Evanston.

The home was a bower of loveliness. Coral colored roses stood majestically in tall vases all over the house. Festoons of smilax hung throughout the rooms.

The room in which the bride and her mother received the wedding guests was an exchange spot. The walls were decorated in soft blue and the draperies were of gold.

FIVE KILLED WHEN LANDSLIDE OCCURS AT CAMP; TWO HURT

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 24.—Five men were killed, two are dying and another suffered less serious injuries today in a landslide at a construction camp at Concrete, Washington.

Turner came from Henderson, N. C.

PROFESSOR TALKS ON ECLIPSE OF SUN

A. O. Swinnerton professor of the geology department at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, delivered a talk in explanation of the eclipse and movements of the earth, sun and moon that caused it, to the students of Antioch College Friday.

The college telescope was placed on the campus Saturday morning, that the students might view the phenomenon.

ALLIES REPLY TO NOTE OF GERMANY

London, Jan. 24.—The allies sent to Germany today an identical note in reply to the German note which protested the failure of the allies to evacuate the Cologne zone. The note was said to be formal in its tone and does not make a complete answer to Germany.

It does not contain either, it was said, details of the allies charges that Germany has violated military provisions of the Versailles treaty. This detailed charge is awaiting the completion of the allies' report, being made up by the military control commission.

CUTTING AFFRAY DUE TO ECLIPSE

Washington, Jan. 24.—The eclipse of the sun was blamed today for a spectacular affray in the United States capitol when a negro barber, fearing that the world was coming to an end, pulled out a big razor and slashed the face of a white man.

The negro was E. C. Washington, employed in the senate barber shop, and the white man was Richard H. Gay, an assistant engineer employed at the capitol.

YOUTHS SENTENCED FOR BURGLARY OF STORE HERE TWICE

James Burten and Durando Lemons this city, arraigned in juvenile court on a charge of delinquency, were given suspended sentences to the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster, O., by Judge S. C. Wright.

They were remanded to the custody of their parents during good behavior. Robert and Ralph Terrill and Ralph Coates, this city, arraigned on the same charge were committed to the Lancaster school until the age of twenty-one. The trio had been paroled from the institution.

The five were arrested with Earl Terrill several weeks ago in connection with the burglary of the Dunkel Grocery, on Cincinnati Avenue, on successive nights. Seventy-five pennies were taken from the cash drawer on the first occasion and a quantity of tobacco and candy removed on the second visit.

Earl Terrill was arraigned in Police Court on a charge of petit larceny soon after he admitted connection with the robberies and sentenced to the Greene County Jail in default of payment of a $200 fine.

Information as to weather conditions was secured through American Telephone and Telegraph Company wire connections with Buffalo, New Haven, Poughkeepsie, Ithaca, East Hampton, L. I., and New York City. There were through connections one half hour before the eclipse started.

"We had a rehearsal last night in which all the astronomers at these places took part" said Prof. Brown. "We had radio news of the weather last night and we had a special forecast from the weather bureau yesterday afternoon and this forecast was right."

A squad of police guarded the grounds of Yale observatory during the eclipse and were aided by a troop of boy scouts.

"Our only trouble with crowds," remarked Prof. Brown, "was with the reporters."

Then he grinned and dismissed his audience.

SING SING'S DEATH CHAIR ENDS LIVES OF THREE SLAYERS

Ossining, N. Y., Jan. 24.—Sing Sing's death chair yesterday had added three convicted murderers to the list of lives it has claimed in fulfillment of the law.

They were John T. Leonard, 22, of New York, slayer of Edward Dolge, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y.; Florence A. Lorma 29, killer of a Buffalo policeman, and Nicholas Ferranti, 45, Birmingham N. Y., who killed his common law wife.

Leonard was the first to go. "Anybody here from the Bronx?" he asked, and receiving no reply, answered his own question: "No."

"I was drunk, but I'm willing to pay the price," he declared. "I still hold out that I was drunk. That's all."

The switch was thrown at 11:02 p.m. and Leonard was pronounced dead seven minutes later. Lorma came next. He had nothing to say. He was dead at 11:13 p.m. Ferranti, the wife slayer, also had nothing to say.

CHILD PROBABLY FATALLY BURNED

Newark, O., Jan. 24.—Angelina Montano, 8 years old, is in a critical condition from burns that cover almost her entire body, received when the fire she had built in a stove, set fire to her nightgown.

The child then leaped back into bed, set fire to the bedclothing and then rushed out of doors and fell unconscious on the icy pavement. The mother dashed a bucket of water on the flames and extinguished them.

HIGHLAND COUNTY JURY INDICTS TWO JACKSON, O., YOUTHS

Boggs Brothers Will Face First Degree Murder Charge

A special Highland County Grand Jury returned five indictments at noon Friday against Dan and John Boggs, of Jackson, O., in connection with the slaying at Hillsboro, Tuesday of Deputy County Surveyor Harry T. McGill. Separate indictments charging the pair with first degree murder were among those returned.

The Grand Jury was called in special session Friday morning at 9 o'clock and after hearing the brief testimony of a dozen witnesses returned the indictments.

John Boggs, 24, was indicted on a first degree murder charge, aiding and abetting with intent to kill and with assault with intent to kill.

Dan, his twenty-one year old brother was charged with first degree murder and with shooting with intent to kill and wound.

The two bandits were taken to Hillsboro late Friday night to face trial for the murder. Nonchalance and bravado has been scattered to the four winds since their arrest, and fear marked their departure.

Newspaper men were cursed as "rats" by Dan, the younger brother. Before being taken to Hillsboro, the bandits were arraigned in Police Court in Springfield on charges of carrying concealed weapons and burglary. Both pleaded not guilty to the charges and the hearing will be continued at an indefinite date.

Charles Weinert was at one time the best looking prospect for the heavyweight championship in the world. He had everything—punch, speed and a wonderful physique but he would not train. He preferred the bright lights to the gym.

He lost to Firpo in two rounds and the fight was put down as a "diver." The two met again and Weinert trained faithfully for the encounter and the result was he beat the "Wild Bull" plenty had even worse than Wills or Dempsey, according to Eastern sport scribes. He still can make lots of money but its doubtful if he has a chance for the championship crown. Weinert has been in the game for eleven years. He is 29 years of age, stands 5 foot 11 inches and weighs 190 pounds.

The Eagles gym on Whiteman Street was the scene of many a lively sparring match in the last few weeks. Many local youngsters with pugilistic ambitions go up to the gym every night or so to work out. Besides boxing and sparring there is a punching bag and stand and also a sand bag, wrist strengtheners, swinging rings and swing and pulling weights. The gym was put up for the public so why not take advantage of it?

WILMINGTON CLUB HEARS FARMER TALK

O. A. Dobbins, Cedarville, addressed members of the Wilmington Commercial Club, following the January luncheon, Thursday noon.

Mr. Dobbins, who is versed in farm problems, made four speeches in Clinton County Thursday, appearing under the auspices of farmers' institute officials.

He urged a co-operation between the city business man and the farmer in his talk before the Commercial Club. He gave an optimistic outlook for the farmer and merchant, and declared the farmer needs good prices and good crops and that when the farmer has money he will spend it in the city.

RECORD IN SINGLE BOWLING IS BROKEN BY SPRINGFIELDER

This season's faculty for breaking records of long standing was exemplified Friday night at the Arcade Alleys when Jack Harms, of Springfield, lead-off man in a match game with the Arcade Allstars of Xenia, broke the alley record for a high single game set three months ago.

Harms started out with a spare in his first frame and then made seven straight strikes, before he spared again in the ninth frame. Harms made a strike on his first ball in the tenth and final frame and then spared for a grand total of 259, which broke the alley record of 255. Harms had previously set a mark of 226 bowling in a match game in Xenia that stood for several months before it was eclipsed.

Incidentally the Springfield five took three straight games from the Arcade team, bowling scores of 845, 816 and 892. Xenia rolled games of 741, 797 and 818. Harms also beat another alley record when he rolled a total of 652 for his three games, beating a previous local score of 640.

INTERESTING ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED AT LUCHEON

The engagement of Miss Florence Rinck to Mr. James Paulin, both of this city, was announced in an informal manner at a handsomely appointed luncheon, given by Mrs. O. B. Shepard, sister of Miss Rinck, at her home on North Galloway Street, Saturday afternoon.

The date of the wedding has not been announced but will be in the early Spring. Miss Rinck recently returned from Los Angeles, Calif., where she spent several months with relatives. Mr. Paulin is employed at The Eavey Company, this city.

Covers for ten young women, intimate friends of Miss Rinck, were laid at the luncheon table. Tiny envelopes were attached to the guests' placecards, and the announcement was read by Miss Marie Newell of Dayton. Little Barbara Ann Bowker, the honor guest's niece, acted as a dainty "Miss Cupid" and presented the ring.

The guests enjoyed cards following luncheon and after their felicitations had been extended Miss Rinck. A pink and white color scheme was carried out in the luncheon appointment and bouquets of pink roses were placed about the rooms of the Shepard home.

The guests included Miss Helen Sherman, Miss Marie Newell and Mrs. Mark Rutledge, of Dayton, and Mrs. John Bowker of Cincinnati, sister of Miss Rinck.

RISE IN PRICE OF BREAD INEVITABLE XENIA BAKERS SAY

Xenia bakers are "keeping an eye on the other fellow" while a rise in the price of bread is pending, it is said.

With the increased cost of flour and lard, higher bread prices are unavoidable, they say, but the amount of the bread price increase or when it will begin is unknown by Xenia bakers, as yet.

Local bakeries are marking time in price problem and awaiting the action of larger city concerns. The price is to be an increase of from two to four cents a loaf, it is said.

Xenia prices are controlled by Springfield and Dayton prices, Xenia bakers say, since thousands of loaves of bread are brought to this city daily by out-of-town bakers.

"Something will have to be done to mean an increase in price" one Xenia baker said Saturday. "The price of flour and lard has gone out of bounds and the price of bread must be increased to insure a profit to the baker."

Flour prices have been boosted from $6.50 to $10.40 a barrel.

MRS. T. B. POWERS, FORMER XENIAN, DIES

Mrs. T. B. Powers, formerly a resident of Xenia, died at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Copenhaver, in Dayton, Friday night at 8:30 o'clock. Death came after an illness of several weeks from the effects of pleurisy and a complication of ailments, incident to her age, about 80 years.

Mrs. Powers was before her marriage, Miss Mary Granger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Granger, many years ago well known residents of Greene County and Xenia City. Members of the family came here from their native state, Massachusetts, before the Civil War.

Mrs. Powers was engaged in dress-making here for a number of years and succeeding her marriage moved to Dayton, where she has since resided. She had often visited in Xenia and lived here last summer and part of the fall at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Arnold, West Main Street. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Copenhaver, one sister, Mrs. George W. Creators, of Pittsburgh and three grandchildren, Mrs. Frances Croy and Mrs. Gilbert Keyes, late of Xenia, were sisters.

Members of Mrs. Powers' family are affiliated with the First M. E. Church this city. Funeral services will probably be held Monday afternoon at the Dayton home, with burial in the family plot, Woodland Cemetery, Dayton.

A large company of relatives and friends attending. The beautiful casket was banked with numerous lovely floral pieces. Rev. J. F. Tapp, of Culver, Ind., a former pastor, preached an eloquent funeral sermon and was assisted in the service by the present pastor, Rev. Moyer. Mrs. Lester Shoup and Mrs. Horace Brill sang several selections. Mrs. Wetzel was married to Charles Wetzel over fifty years ago, and had lived most of that time in Zimmerman, or vicinity. She was a devoted, faithful wife and mother, a member of the old Pisgah M. E. Church and later of Mt. Zion Reformed Church.

Surviving are her husband and daughter, Mrs. Allen Love, of Dayton, three sons, Dan Wetzel of Dayton, William of near Trotwood, and Elmer, of Bellbrook; ten grandchildren and one great-grandchild. One brother, William Reece, of New Liberty; six sisters, Mrs. William Miller, Indianapolis; Mrs. Sarah Black, Niles, Ohio; Mrs. Henry C. Stewart, New Liberty; Mrs. Jacob Stewart, Mrs. Amanda Reece and Miss Margaret Reece, all of Zimmerman. Mrs. Myrtle Carpenter and daughter, Miss Irene, entertained the Faithful Workers S. S. Class at their home at Shoup's Station, Thursday evening, fifty persons being present. The meeting was called to order by the newly elected president, Mrs. A. D. Wenrick. An interesting program was given, consisting of recitations by Elden Smart, Frank and Ronald Renick. Interesting selections were read by a number of persons. Also several amusing jokes. Mrs. Homer Kozler and Mrs. Fred Smart sang several selections. Also Miss Irene Carpenter, who was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Kozler. The teacher of the class, Mr. A. D. Wenrick, gave a talk outlining some of the special work and study he desired the class to accomplish during 1925.

The slaying of a Chinaman in Canton, Ohio, is taken as a resumption of the tong war that has spread terror among Chinese residents in this country.

The slaying is the latest in the present war that apparently began early in the winter, and has since broken out intermittently. The first break followed a peace that resulted from an arbitration many years ago. The tongs are merely powerful secret societies or lodges, organized for social and other reasons. The war is the result of rivalry between the tongs, the advantages of one arousing the feelings and the ire of another. Thus, in order to curb this prosperous condition, the members of one tong or lodge, send emissaries to kill certain members of the other.

The actual slaying is the first intimation to police that trouble has arisen. The Chinese suspects, arrested, remain adamant in the face of questioning. They hold the slaying as a matter of their own business. Interpreters are baffled in their efforts to extract information from them.

Perhaps the police would not interfere with the little amusement of the tong members, were it not for the fact that the Chinese are notorious poor shots. When a tong member sallies forth with a pistol to snuff out the life of one of the members of the rival tong, he is just as likely as not to hit several innocent bystanders before his bullets find their intended mark.

And so the police get worried and step in right away as soon as they hear of a tong rampage. With all that shooting going on, somebody might get hurt.

THRIFT

"There is no set rule for saving or spending and the degree of thrift is adjusted by the purpose of the individual."

James A. Devine, who is secretary of the League of Building and Loan Associations of Ohio said this addressing Rotarians and Kiwanians in Xenia Thursday.

Will power, being the only incentive to saving, is assailed on all sides by temptations. We are living in an age of luxuries, when the senses are assailed by the good things of life, that require the expenditure of money.

Thus he who will save, must build a bulwark of determination about himself to shield himself from the temptations of an easy-spending world. And thus having barricaded himself against the appeal of luxuries, he may carry out a determination of thrift that will provide for his old-age, a measure of comfort.

WHEN AMBITIONS CLASH

One of the difficulties in conducting government by oligarchy as in Russia, is that divergence in views of the clash of rival ambitions is fairly certain in time to wreck the governing group.

The soviet rulers have just gone through such an internal quarrel with the result that for the time at least Trotsky, next to Lenin the leader of the revolution has been reduced to the ranks. The triumvirate, Zinoviev, Stalin and Kameneff, is in complete control.

Trotsky has been one of the organizing minds thrown up by the revolution. He was responsible for the successful organization and leadership of the Red army. Reports from Russia have indicated his impatience with the inefficiency of the bolshevik management of industry. It has been said of the quarrel that he represents the western mind, and the opposition the oriental mind.

With Lenin's death other men seized the power and Trotsky found himself on the outside. He refused to subordinate himself to the governing group. At last his enemies have got the upper hand.

But the quarrel, if human nature operates in Russia, as elsewhere, is only the first of a series of struggles between ambitious men for the mastery of the empire.—Kansas City Star.

It would be a good joke on street corner loafers if all the interesting things happened while they were at home for meals.—Defiance, O., Crescent-News.

Old-style introduction: "Please permit me to introduce myself." New style: "Gotta match?"—Youngstown, O., Vindicator.

Whatever else may be said of Leon Trotsky and his troubles, it must be admitted he is the man who had most to do with putting the "Nick" in Nicholas.—Stuebenville, O., Gazette.

"Craft aids dry sleuths," says a headline writer. Probably meant "graft."—Akron, O., Beacon-Journal.

PEACE IN THE HOME

A little path to a little gate,
 A shout of glee when the children wait;
 A simple meal when the day is done,
 Good appetites when the food comes on
 With love to rule at the table fair,
 Oh, what excellents this anywhere?
 Count your riches and boast your fame
 But more than these you can never claim
 The faith and love of the little few
 Who watch and wait at the dusk for you.
 If your home be glad at the long day's close
 You have all that any man ever knows,
 If peace be yours when the shadows fall
 They can have no more in a marble hall.
 And a king by his queen is never met
 With a warmer welcome than that you get.
 And the kiss she gives when you come from town
 Would be the same if she wore a crown.
 For whether you're rich or whether you're great
 Doesn't matter at all where the children wait;
 If love be there when the day is spent

And you sit down to your meal content,

HAS FIRE JINX

Shadyside, Jan. 21—John Leak and family have been rendered homeless by a fire the third one in three years. While Mrs. Leak was rendering aid, the hot grease ran onto the kitchen floor and ignited the wood. Their home, with all its contents, was destroyed before neighbors dug to icy roads, could arrive from their farm homes. Two years ago, Leak's barn and crop burned. Last year, he rented a barn in which he stored his grain. Soon after harvest, lightning hit it, the fire destroying the barn.

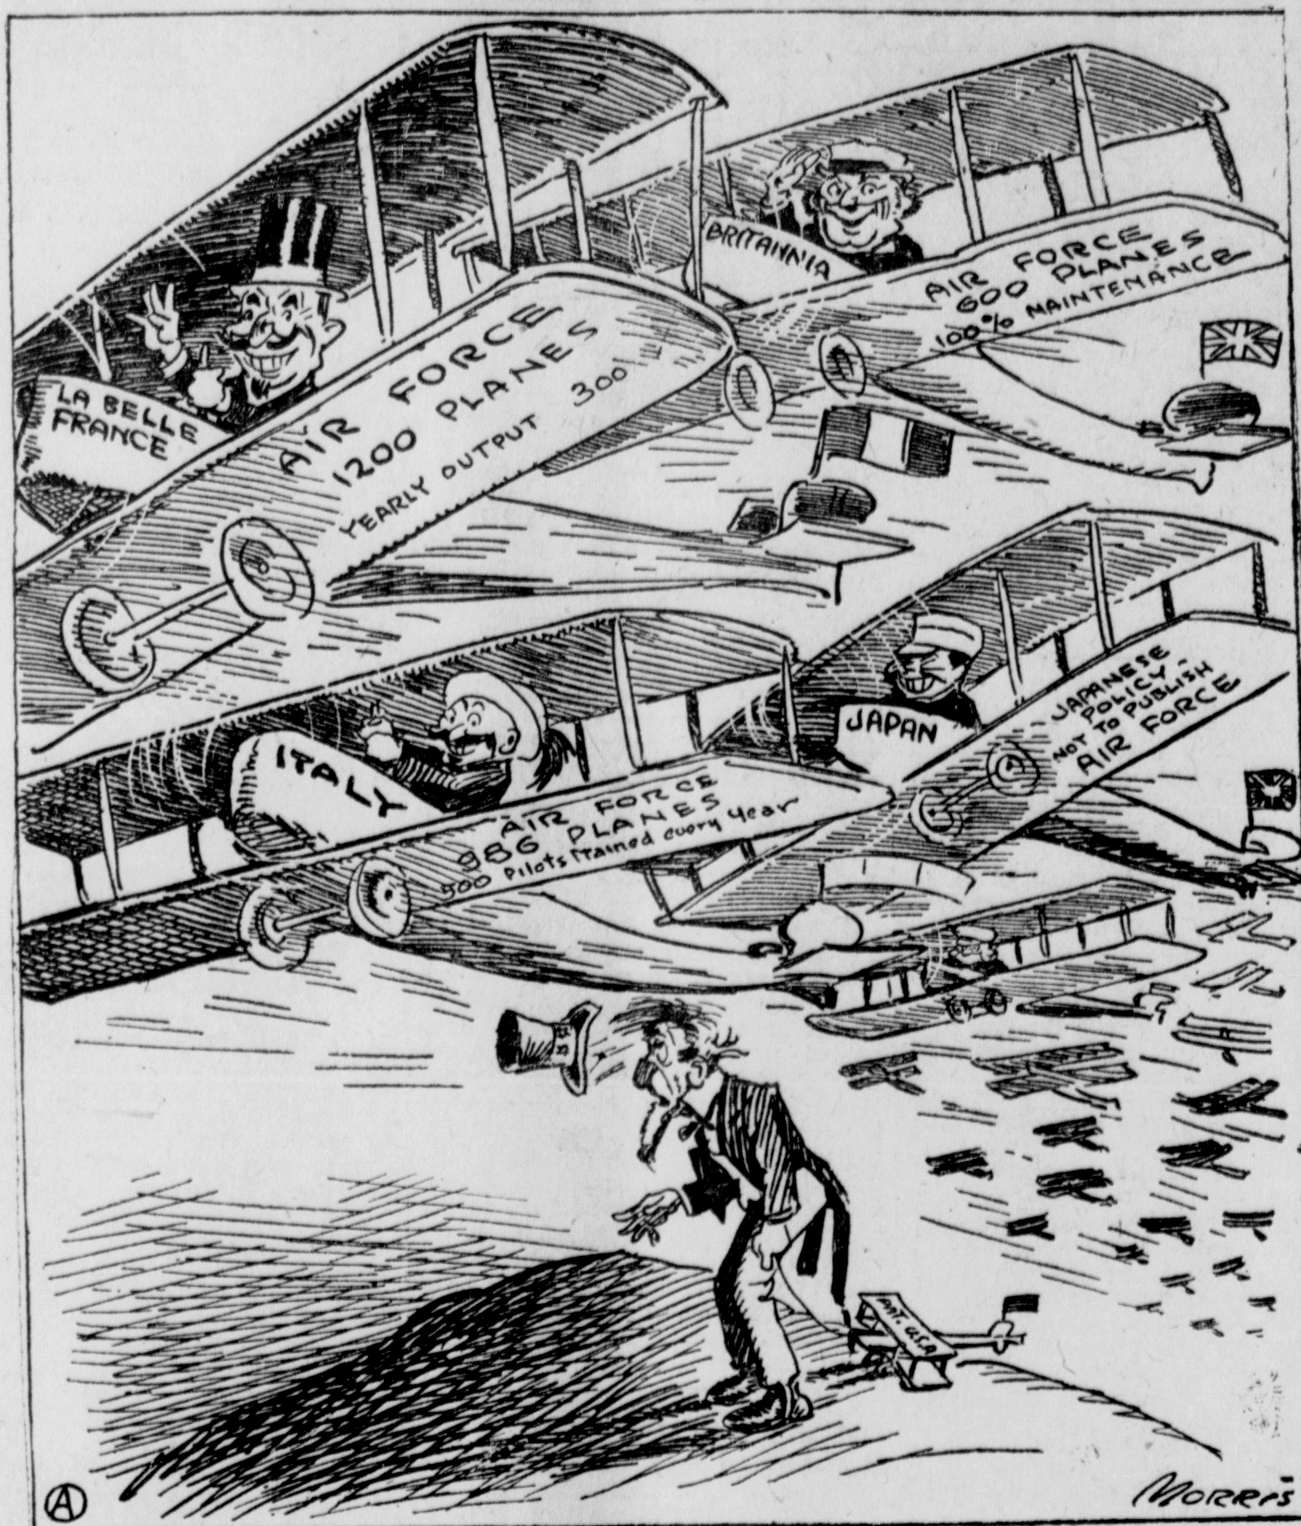

EXTRA TEACHER NAMED

Middleport, Jan. 24—A teacher, paid by the county, has just been furnished thirty-five of the inmates of the Meigs County children's home. The Sugar Run School, near the home, which these youngsters attended. Become so crowded they were forced out.

WOMAN BANK OFFICER

Tiltonville, Jan. 24—Mrs. Ann Walker, Dillonville, has been chosen vice president of the People's Bank. It is claimed she is the first woman to hold such a position in Eastern Ohio. She was appointed as a tribute to the memory of her husband, the late Henry Walker, who was president of the bank.

PUZZLE: FIND THE INVENTOR OF THE AIRPLANE

1905-Twenty Years Ago-1925

An exceedingly interesting and instructive program has been arranged for the farmers' institute at Yellow Springs, which will be held in the Opera House Wednesday and Thursday.

The Y. M. C. A. team had some good practice last evening and tonight will have a final round-up on the rink floor in preparation for the basketball game with O. S. U. Friday night.

Judge Shoup, of the Probate Court on Wednesday received the splendid head of the great moose he brought down in a hunt in the wilds of New Brunswick several weeks ago. He had left it there to be mounted.
 Dr. Izenaga's lecture at the Opera House Monday evening was devoted wholly to a description of condition in China.

grom, because of just these interruptions.

On the other hand, what is more satisfactory than giving time to our friends? I'd rather "shatter" all the household schedules in the world than wound a friend by not having time to receive her friendly little call cordially. We'd realize what these back-door calls mean to us—how dear they are, in their cosy intimacy—if our Neighbor Friends should cease making them. It is better to be a little inefficient in our household than lonely. Neighborhood life is the sweetest thing in the world.

"I have been reading a book on 'Time Budgets,'" says a letter which I have just received from one of our Reader Friends. "The efficiency expert who wrote this book advises the housewife to apportion her day so that one hour is devoted to this task and another to that task. Since reading that book I have tried out the plan; I chose one of the many Times Budgets and changed it slightly (to suit my individual needs—as advised). But it didn't work because I was constantly interrupted by calls from my neighbors! No 'Time Schedule' allows for these unforeseen interruptions! Just as I got my schedule to working nicely I received a call from my right-hand neighbor who ran over to borrow something—and spent 30 minutes telling me how another woman was unkind to her after the Ladies' Aid Meeting.

"When this neighbor went home I returned to my shattered schedule revised it slightly, again got into its pace—when I suddenly was called to my kitchen door by my left-hand neighbor who had come over to tell me that her baby had caught the night. Of course I invited her in and proceeded to give my advice concerning the application of goose-grease and nutmeg to the baby's chest; and from there I went on to cite perhaps a dozen instances in which the goose-grease-and-nutmeg treatment had proved eminently successful! Thus, from this experience I have come to the conclusion that no country housekeeper, at least, can make a Time Budget work. Perhaps it would suit a city woman who lived in an apartment house (where the neighbors do not call they tell me!) but I defy any small-town housewife to follow a Housework Schedule, any in, day out, for a week.

I am sure that this letter will interest many housekeepers. For it is so absolutely true! It is difficult for us to put through our planned pro-

Today's Talks

THE GOOD OLD TIMES

I hear so many people cry for the "good old times." Yet when these same good old times were on the way were people who cried for the same thing.

The fact is that when people are unable to keep up with the procession and join the new order of things; they throw out a "smoke screen" in the guise of a request something like this: "Please wait! I dropped something."

Such people are always dropping or losing something that they should carry and keep as a regular equipment for the fine and important tasks of life.

No matter how hard we are pressed no matter what we have to add in burdens as the years accumulate, I believe that we should grow happier and happier. There are always compensations for every loss.

I notice when the body is injured that nature always comes to the rescue in strengthening other organs or parts of the body so as to help make up for any loss. Lose one eye and your other one is given greater strength for its double duty.

I would much rather live 100 years from now than to have lived 100 years ago.

No matter how long this earth keeps alive and people move and strive, the thing to be done will always take precedent over what has already been done.

Youth is stretched by keeping right in line in the procession. I like to talk and associate with people who are always thinking ahead of what has already been thought out.

There is no more valuable man or citizen than he who gives his life to research, experiment and invention. In Pittsburgh there is a man who makes bread and who incidentally sells more than any other baker. He did it this way. He had a laboratory work out a method of making bread so that it would hold its moisture and thereby keep fresh for two more days. He looked ahead. He wasn't "the good old times" sort of a man.

It is possible for you to make tomorrow a much better and happier day than today. This is the way: Make today better than yesterday!

New and Still Lower Prices

Greater Values Made Still Greater

Reductions are announced in the prices of good Maxwell models, coincident with the advent of the new Standard Sedan.

The new good Maxwell has long led in value all other cars in its field, because as a dollar-for-dollar buy its quality could not be equalled. Not only in performance and riding qualities does it surpass all fours, but these new and lower prices now make it a better investment than ever before, and great values are made still greater.

MAXWELL

KIWANIANS TO GIVE BENEFIT SHOW FOR WELFARE WORK FUND

To raise funds for city welfare work the Xenia Kiwanis club will present a "welfare show" at the Jean B. Elwell auditorium in Central High School, the evening of February 12, it was announced Saturday.

The show is to be a combined movie and vaudeville program, the vaudeville program to include five acts. The motion picture will be Buster Keaton's latest release, "The Navigator."

The vaudeville skits will be headlined by the "premier artists" Elbert L. Babb and Roy Hayward, members of the club, who are well known to Xenia home-talent patrons.

Babb and Hayward will present an original act, "The Marliners—More Modern Than Ancient."

Several numbers will be given by the "Harmony Four Quartette" under the direction of Karl R. Babb. The Ki-Ro Orchestra will play for the program, directed by Elwood Dunkle.

The vaudeville program will be augmented by musical acts by Miss Helen Hurley and Mrs. Charles Adair and by a comedy-vaudeville act by Ora Saunders, Washington, C. H., former Keith circuit vaudeville artist.

"Dr. Seashore" will give a health talk on "How to Live to be 150 Years Old."

The proceeds of the show will be used by the Kiwanis Club for welfare work in the city. The club has sponsored baby clinics for two years and has done other valuable work along welfare lines.

Tickets for the show will be in the hands of Kiwanians and patrons are asked to buy their tickets as soon as possible in order to get good seats.

SPRING VALLEY

The funeral of Mrs. Joseph Sims held at the Friends Church Saturday afternoon, conducted by Rev. T. M. Scarff.

Mrs. Eveline Luce, a former resident of this place, now of Bellevue, is very critically ill.

Mrs. Frank Kyne, who has been so critically ill, is some better at this writing.

Mrs. Jack Reeves is recovering from her operation very nicely.

Mrs. Mary Smith, of Xenia, is visiting her sister, Miss Minerva Lincolnton.

Miss Reva Spahr is ill with rheumatism at her home in New Jasper.

Mrs. Esta Mamer is teaching in her place.

Mr. and Mrs. Pliny St. John spent Sunday in Springfield, with Mr. St. John's uncle, Mr. John Peterson.

The Farmers' Institute this year was a splendid success. Those receiving prizes for spelling were, Opal Harner, Helen Fletcher, Billmeyer and Minnie Peterson.

Those receiving prizes for posters were, Hazel Mae Hartsock, Mildred Turner, Carl Sutton and Max Dean Hartsock.

The old fashioned spelling bee on Monday evening was also an enjoyable feature.

12 The Reunion

(Drawing: King Hygelac)

On the earth, beside the swamp in which Beowulf had plunged, the warriors waited disconsolately. After a while the War-Danes left, sure Beowulf was dead. The Geatmen on eBeowulf appeared from out swamp and then was there roaring by his thianes.

Then the party arrived back at Hrothgar's palace much treasure did this great king give them for the noble deeds the champion had accomplished. Even so should be the reward of a brave man by a just king.

In spirits high with triumph the Geatmen prepared to return to their native country, to lay their treasures at the feet of their king, Hygelac—as was the custom in those days. Thus they got into their good ship and sailed away.

Soon they came to Geatland—to the land of their kinsman, Hygelac—and offered him their treasure which he most generously did divide among them.

(Something big happens to Beowulf before the week is over. Don't miss any chapters.)

INFUENZA RAGING

Tokio, Jan. 24.—Reports of an influenza epidemic in the Tokio area in which 4700 persons are reported dead, have been exaggerated, Tokio municipal health authorities said today, although there are between thirty and forty deaths daily. This, however, is only slightly above normal for this time of the year, it was stated. Lack of rain is claimed to have caused the epidemic.

MULE BACK ELOPERS REACH U. S.

MRS BEATRICE BOURNE. INTL.

Something unique in elopements was performed by Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Boneau, of San Salvador, Central America, who have just reached San Francisco. It was at a social affair in their home city that Senorita Juita Mesa slipped away from her duenna and met Boneau, who was waiting nearby with a pair of saddle mules. They rode twenty-five miles to Mexico, where Governor Alexander Salazar performed the ceremony. Their fathers, wealthy coffee planters, pursued on mule back, but, after brief hesitation, granted filial pardon.

STRANGEST KNOCKOUT ON RECORD

STRANGE KNOCKOUT. INTL.

The strangest knockout on record occurred in the semi-final of the Walker-McTigue fight in Newark, N. J., in which the opponents were Jack Rappaport and Bobby Barrett. In the eighth round Barrett, a welterweight, brought over a terrific right to Rappaport's jaw, knocking him cold. Rappaport fell face forward, landing squarely on top of his head. Ringside followers thought he had a broken neck, but he quickly revived.

SLEEPING BEAUTY

(Bed Time Story for Xenia Tots)

Once upon a time there was a king with no troubles in the world. But one day a baby arrived and then his troubles began. The youngster, too, put up an awful howl.

Now, there was an old witch who lived near who came in wringing her hands instead of the doorbell. Of course the king should have wrung her neck.

She sat down on a hairpin which was sticking through a cushion of a chair, which got her and her dandruff up. So she said she would place a curse on the baby—that it would be pricked by a hairpin and sleep for one hundred years.

The king took no chances. He sent word that all the hairpins in the world should be destroyed. Any woman found wearing one would be killed. Some of the women tied their hair up with bailing wire. Some wore chicken wire around their heads. Some placed their heads in barrels of sorghum molasses every morning. I tell you they had a time in those days, since they did not know enough to bob it.

The baby grew to be a fine girl and got along fine until one day when she was twenty years of age she went into a restaurant. She ordered a piece of pie and bit into a hair pin. Then she fell asleep. The pie had been baked for 21 years.

The king took the girl and placed her in an abandoned castle in a deep woods. One day a young prince who was hunting in the woods got lost and bunked in the old castle all night. Imagine his surprise to find the girl there asleep. He touched her and she awoke. The one hundred year period was up.

The prince was very happy. They were married and lived happily for two or three weeks, as the custom is to this very day. Good night, darlings!

FRESH AIR LOVER

There was a young lady named Clair,
Who said: "I've doffed all that I dare,
If I go to a dance,
Folks will know at a glance,
That I like to be out in the air."

It's a funny world. The girls are spending hard earned tin to get rid of some of their foliage, while many a poor man is worrying along with tonics, massages, etc., trying to get his back. By the way, we have a special place on this page for beauty parlors and barber shops to advertise. Phone and ask about it.

MRS. JAMES HARRIS

Correspondent

TEL. 91-R

Mrs. Gertrude Wilkerson of Washington, C. H., is visiting Xenia relatives for a few days.

Mrs. Ella Bryant and daughter Mildred, who have been living in Lansing, Mich., are spending a few days with her sister Mrs. W. A. Scott. They will leave Monday for Hobson, Miss., where they will reside.

Mr. Bryant was killed in a machine shop a few months ago in Lansing and Mrs. Bryant is returning to the home of her parents.

Mr. Raymond Curl left a few days ago for Detroit, Mich., where he will work with his brother, Ormond Curl, formerly of this city.

Mrs. Viola Hubbard received a telegram yesterday announcing the death of her brother, John Ford of Cleveland. Mr. Patterson of the Patterson and Shields undertaking firm left Thursday night to bring the body to Xenia.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Rev. A. M. Howe was called to Chillicothe Friday to preach the funeral discourse of Mrs. Isaac of that city.

Mrs. Isaac is the mother of Fritz Isaac, football star who recently played on the Yale team.

Monroe Trotter of Boston is her nephew.

SMALL CROWD HEARS EXPLORER TALK ON BIG GAME HUNTING

Only a few people heard L. O. Armstrong, internationally known explorer and lecturer, give an interesting and instructive talk on "Whales and Sea Lions" and other subjects at the Central High School Auditorium Thursday night. His talk was accompanied by a series of motion pictures, slides and amusing anecdotes.

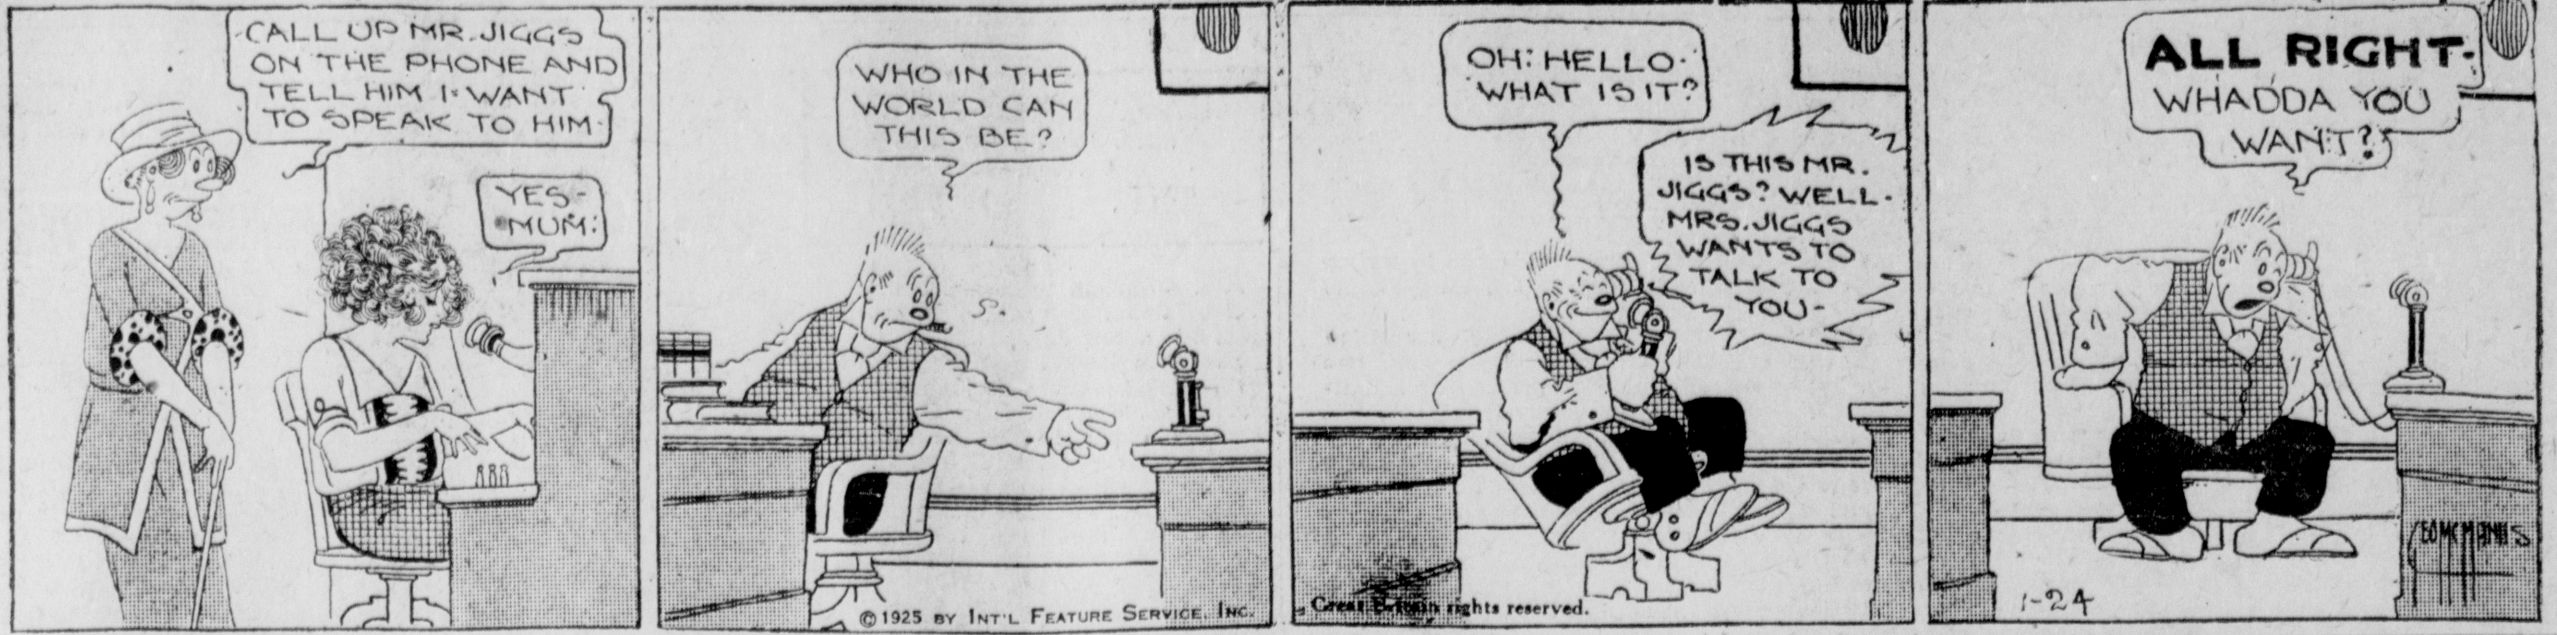

Mr. Armstrong, who has spent forty years of exploration for the government and railways, is one of the few surviving "courageous boys," those pioneers who blazed the way westward from the Mississippi River across the Rockies to the Pacific Ocean.

Mr. Armstrong declared that it was a delightful journey getting to the whaling country, features of which are: chasing the vessel; swarms of birds coming for the anticipated feast; the lookout at the crow's nest; the hunt; the harpooning; the flap of the whale's tail; being towed out to sea at twenty miles an hour by a whale; the tiring whale stopping to breathe again and again; finally exhausted; it turns over, and last of all, is hauled alongside the whaling vessel.

Stories of sea lions and sea birds accompanied by slides of many of his experiences and other incidents, such as frightening the denizens off for greater safety in hunting; being towed in an open boat by a sea lion; killing one big specimen, racing a big moose in the Yukon River and incidental pictures of a trip on an iceberg.

Fishing pictures were shown on the screen by Mr. Armstrong, and territory shown where "big catches" were a common occurrence.

BRINGING UP FATHER

The Husband Tamer by VIOLET DARE AUTHOR OF "The Half-Time Wife," "The Luxury of Love," etc.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED.

PATRICIA CLEVE has become estranged from her husband.

ANDREW CLEVE, who lives only for his business and expects her to give up everything to entertain his clients. She rebels and visits her sister, and he goes abroad. She is thrown with GREGORY HEWITT, a famous financier to whom her husband has introduced her, who falls in love with her, and whom she cannot ignore because of the help which he can give her sister's husband.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT.

XLIII—LOVE'S TEMPTATION

PATRICIA smiled gratefully at her companion in the sun parlor of the great, luxurious hotel. "There is a letter here I must read," she told him, "and then I should love to hear what you have to tell me." So with the kindly eyes of the old man watching her she took out Andrew's letter and nervously began to read it. "I was stunned when I arrived in New York," she read through blurred eyes, "to learn that on the train to Chicago you were with Gregory Hewitt. I could hardly be expected to believe that such a meeting was accidental. And then to learn that you had accompanied him in his private car on a trip to the Southwest—even though your sister and her husband were along—seemed to me to carry but one implication: that you had tired of me and all I had to offer. That our years together meant no more to you than to me more than I can tell you, but that you would steal away on a subterfuge instead of coming to me frankly seems inconceivable. I was sorry to hear of your accident, but I cannot believe that it was that alone that kept you from coming to New York to meet me on my return from Europe. I understand only too well that you do not want to see me again."

The teardrops splashed unnoticed down Patricia's cheeks as she gazed uncomprehendingly at the letter in her hand. And it wasn't until her aged neighbor handed her a handkerchief and consolingly said, "There, there, little girl, it's too bad. Is there anything I can do for you?" that she realized what she was doing.

"No, no, nothing," she gulped; "only I wish my nurse would come and wheel me to my room. I—" but the rest of her sentence was veiled in tears which she could not control. The next day, when she felt more composed, she sought out her friend of the day before and tried to apologize to him, but he would not hear of it. "I don't wish to intrude, but I felt your grief last night so keenly; I wanted so much to do something to comfort you, and there was nothing a stranger could do. But forgive an old man, please, for meddling in your affairs. Is there anything I could do for you?"

"Nothing," Patricia smiled at him gratefully. "Nothing that I can think of."

"Then may I take the liberty of asking you to do something for me?" he asked her.

"Of course," Patricia, taken completely by surprise, sat up alertly, her eyes glowing with interest.

"I'll have to begin by telling you something about myself," he began, "but I'll make it as brief as possible, for you have an understanding heart and will fill in the gaps in my story. My name is Clayton Gillespie; you may have heard of me."

At mention of the name Patricia's memory yielded up many little details—philanthropies she had read about, schools this man had endowed, young people of talent whom he had helped.

"I am getting too old to look after all my charitable interests," he went on, "and yet they are too dear to me to have them turned over to any sort of organization. I pride myself that whatever I have given money to I have also given personal attention and real human interest. That is how you can help me. You must want to do something now that your husband is gone. Why can't you represent me at some of these meetings I must attend? Decide for me what cases are worthy? Look up young people who need encouragement? You are the only person I have ever met who seemed to me fitted for the job. Won't you consider it?"

The next day Patricia was permitted to walk a little.

"Oh, Mr. Gillespie, you are too good, too kind," Patricia sobbed. "You don't know how much you have done for me giving me an interest just at this time. I will do my best to help you."

The next day she was permitted to walk a little, and a few days after that she was ready to leave the hospital. But by that time she and Gillespie had perfected the plans whereby she was to become immediately on her arrival in New York—one of the most powerful figures in the philanthropic world. All that there remained for her to do now was to break the news to Andrew.

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Market, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

Why is it advantageous to have a very substantial margin when buying stocks on "margin"?

It is advisable to have a substantial margin, because, although the margin is intended primarily as a protection for the broker against loss through fluctuations in the market price of security, the large margin affords an even greater protection to the investor.

Stock fluctuations do not always represent changes in the intrinsic value of shares of stock. If a stock is weakly margined and a temporary decline comes on, the stock must often be sacrificed and the subsequent rise in price, which frequently occurs in such cases, will in no way benefit the speculator—due to his "skinny" margins. The speculator would be sold out at the first break in prices.

No sensible person should engage in marginal trading unless he is prepared to deposit a substantial portion of the market price of the security as a margin.

Junior Cross Word Puzzle

HOW TO SOLVE PUZZLE

The words start in the numbered squares and run either across or down. Only one letter is placed in each white square. If the proper words are found each combination of letters in the white squares will form words. The key to the puzzle—the first word—is given in the drawing. Below are keys to the other words.

(RUNNING ACROSS)

Word 1. A fruit the man in the picture is selling.
Word 2. A tropical fruit.
Word 6. The farmer—hay while the sun shone.

Word 7. What all things we eat are called. Plural.

(RUNNING DOWN)

Word 2. The most common vegetable.

Word 4. One of the words in this sentence. "All that I am I owe to my mother."

Word 5. A boy's nickname.

Your Income Tax

No. 8

It should be noted that the revenue act of 1924 provides specifically that the status of a taxpayer relative to the amount of his personal exemptions shall be determined by apportionment in accordance with the number of months the taxpayer was single, married or the head of a family.

Under the preceding act the amount of the exemption to which the taxpayer was entitled was determined by his status as a single person, married person or the head of a family on the last day of the taxable year.

A taxpayer, who was married on June 30, 1924, is entitled to an exemption of $1,750. For the first six months of the taxable year he is classed as a single person who is single for the complete taxable year—and for the last six months he is classed as a married person entitling him to an exemption of $1,250, one-half of the exemption allowed a married person living with wife or husband for the full taxable year. If on June 30 he became a widower, he is classed as a married person for the first half of the year and as a single person for the latter half. In such computations a fractional part of a month is disregarded, unless it amounts to more than half a month, in which case it is considered a full month. These figures are based on the assumption that the return is made on the calendar year basis, as most are.

If on June 30, 1924, a taxpayer ceased being the head of a family—the support in one household of a relative or relatives being discontinued—he is granted the same exemption as in the case of a taxpayer married on June 30, a total of $1,750. With regard to the $400 credit for a dependent, however, it is provided that the taxpayer's status on the last day of the taxable year (December 31, if the return is made on the calendar year basis) shall determine his right to such credit. If on that day he was the chief support of a dependent who is under 18 years of age, or is incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective, he is entitled to the $400 credit. If during the year his support of such dependent ceased, the credit is not allowed.
